RBI SETS UP MECHANISM TO SETTLE TRADE PAYMENTS IN ₹

The central bank said the decision is to promote growth of global trade and to support increasing interest in the rupee

WILL HELP BYPASS CURBS ON BIZ WITH RUSSIA

RBI's move comes amid increasing pressure on the Indian currency in the wake of Russia's invasion of Ukraine. It will also help bypass restrictions on doing trade with Russia using dollar. Experts say the new trade settlement mechanism, which comes amid reports that RBI is trying to put in place a rupee-ruble trade system, is far wider in scope

EXCHANGE RATE TO BE MARKET-DRIVEN

- Authorised banks will need to take RBI's permission and open Special Rupee Vostro Accounts of the partner trading country's bank before instituting the rupee trade settlement mechanism
- "Exchange rate between the currencies of the two trading partner countries may be market determined," RBI said

Ahead of 5G rollout, Centre bars Chinese telecom equipment

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IN a big blow to Chinese telecom equipment manufacturers ahead of the 5G rollout, the Centre on Monday mandated telecom companies to source devices only from 'trusted sources' for expansion or upgradation of existing networks. The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) issued a notification to this effect on Monday, tightening the rules for telecom licences.

The move is aimed at preventing Chinese vendors such as Huawei and ZTE from providing telecom gear to Indian telecom operators for the upcoming 5G services.

"With effect from 15th June 2021, the licensee shall only connect trusted products in its network and also seek permission from designated authority for upgradation or expansion of existing Network utilizing the telecommunication equipment not designated as trusted products," reads the DoT notification.

The government clarified that these directions will not affect ongoing annual maintenance contracts or software updates to existing equipment.

In 2021, the DoT had made the changes to the telecom licensing norms and included 'defence' and 'national security' as parameters for the purchase of trusted telecom products. Following this, the designated authority can ask telecom companies not to use products deemed unsafe. In the latest notification, the DoT added the word 'expansion' to the licence conditions.

Chinese tech giants Huawei and ZTE are yet to complete paperwork to seek 'trusted sources' approval. Several countries, including the US, UK and Sweden have blocked operators from using equipment made by Huawei over security concerns. Countries such as Canada accused Huawei of spying for the Chinese government.

"We have found that these Chinese telecom gears are not safe at all. It is dangerous to use these devices," said an official with the telecom ministry.

Bommai to visit rain-hit districts

Orange alert issued for seven regions and yellow alert in 4 districts till July 16; CM assures relief

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will be visiting rain-affected regions, especially coastal and Malnad districts, for two days starting from Tuesday. The CM's decision comes in the wake of Orange alert (very heavy rainfall) issued by the Karnataka State Disaster Management Authority (KSDMA) for these regions for the next five days.

Speaking to reporters on Monday, Bommai said he will undertake a survey of rain-affected districts of Kodagu, Dakshina Kannada, Uttara Kannada and Udupi districts and instruct officials to take appropriate relief measures. These regions are being lashed by heavy rain for the past 10 days.

The KSDMA has forecast 'very heavy rainfall' (Orange alert - 115.6 mm to 204.4 mm) till July 16 for Dakshina Kannada, Uttara Kannada, Udupi, Kodagu, Uttara Kannada, Chikkamagaluru and Shivamogga. This apart, 'heavy rainfall' (Yellow alert - 64.5 mm to 115.5 mm) has been forecast for north-interior regions including Haveri, Dharwad, Belagavi and Hassan

Last week, the CM had convened a meeting with Deputy Commissioners through video-conference to take stock of the situation.

Shivamogga district received 137 mm rainfall in the last 24 hours and also reported partial damage to 37 houses and severe damage to three houses during this period.

In Chikkamagaluru, the district administration issued notice imposing restrictions on tourists visiting Chandradrona hill range following unabated rain in the area.

Reports from Mangaluru said heavy rain continued to wreak havoc in different parts of Dakshina Kannada district on Monday. Several houses on Tipu Road in Bantwal town are facing threat from a hillock that has become unstable following heavy downpour in the region. CONTINUED ON: P5

Tomato prices crash, Kolar farmers worry

V VELAYUDHAM @ Kolar

HEAVY rain has taken a toll on the prices of tomatoes in Kolar district. Rain has destroyed tomato crops and prices have crashed to Rs 50 per crate (15 kg). According to Vijayalakshmi, APMC market secretary, everyday 30,000 to 35,000 quintals of tomatoes arrive in the market. "We usually send 140 truckloads of tomatoes to various parts of the country on a daily basis which has come down to 80 vehicles due to a drop in demand," she said.

Sources said there is another reason for low demand in other states. "Due to rain, a particular variety of tomato which is grown here, gets damaged. Traders from other states are not keen on buying that tomato variety as it takes more time to transport the produce from here. The prices will fall further if the same weather condition continues as the crop needs good amount of sunlight," they added.

NEW SRI LANKAN PREZ BY JULY 20

DILRUKSHI HANDUNNETTI @ Colombo

THREE days after a mass uprising almost deposed President Gotabaya Rajapaksa, there was more clarity on the timeline for the election of his successor.

Also, right through the day there were rumours on the whereabouts of Gotabaya. Media reports suggested he had left on a navy ship on Saturday but returned to the country on Monday and took stock of the situation in a meeting with tri-services chiefs. There was wild speculation as well on his possible departure abroad after his resignation.

Top political sources told this newspaper that Sri Lanka will find a replacement interim president by July 20. All political parties have agreed to prevent any further delay in ushing in political stability.

Consensus has been reached that following the president's resignation on July 13, Parliament will meet on July 15 and call for nominations for the post of president. Nominations are to be accepted by July 19 and a new president is tipped to be elected by the House on July 20.

Members of the outgoing ministry agreed to resign to pave the way for a new interim administration, during a morning meeting with Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe.

Among the factors the new government constituted by Gotabaya's successor would have to deal with is the demand of the protesters who put them in the saddle, for a place at the decision-making table so as to contribute to the country's strategising process.

The biggest challenge for the new government would be debt restructuring and bailout packages from international lending agencies that were under discussion.

Protesters continue to occupy the presidential secretariat, the president's house, and the prime minister's residence. They have threatened to resume protests if Gotabaya does not resign by July 13, a deadline he set for himself. P11

Mallya given 4-month jail term by SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Supreme Court on Monday sentenced beleaguered liquor tycoon Vijay Mallya to four months imprisonment and slapped a fine of Rs 2,000 in a contempt case.

The court while directing Mallya to deposit $40 million with interest within four weeks, has instructed authorities to go ahead with recovery proceedings in case he defaults.

Mallya was found guilty in 2017 for transferring $40 million to his children in violation of the orders passed in a case filed by a consortium of banks led by the State Bank of India (SBI). The consortium had alleged that Mallya had transferred the money received from the British firm Diageo to his children Siddharth, Leanna and Tanya Mallya in violation of court orders.

In 2020, the apex court had denied Mallya's request to reconsider the 2017 contempt conviction for the said transfer of funds to his children against court instructions. The Supreme Court on Monday, while pronouncing the sentence, said that Mallya did not show any remorse for his conduct and did not appear before it during the sentence hearing.

The former Rajya Sabha member is an accused in bank loan default case of over Rs 9,000 crore involving his defunct Kingfisher Airlines and has been in the United Kingdom since 2016. P12

Whoa, India to be world's most populous next year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA will become the world's most populous country as early as next year — four years ahead of the UN's projection in 2019.

The UN's World Population Prospects 2022 released on Monday pegs India's total population this year at 1.412 billion as compared to China's 1.426 billion. By 2050, India's population is expected to balloon to 1.668 billion, as against China's 1.317 billion within the same timeframe.

More worryingly, it says most population increases across the world till 2050 will be driven by the momentum of past growth. In other words, further actions by governments to reduce fertility can't slow down the pace of growth till the mid-century.

Another significant milestone is the world's population reaching 8 billion on November 15 this year. Yet, the global population is growing at its slowest rate since 1950, having fallen under 1% in 2020.

The world's population is projected to reach around 8.5 billion in 2030; 9.7 billion in 2050; 10.4 billion in the 2080s; and stabilise there till 2100.

The two most populous regions in the world in 2022 are Eastern and South-Eastern Asia, with 2.3 billion people, representing 29% of the global population, and Central and Southern Asia, with 2.1 billion, representing 26% of the world population. Central and Southern Asia are expected to become the most populous regions in the world by 2037 while the population of Eastern and South-Eastern Asia could start declining by the mid-2030s.

More than half of the rise in global population up to 2050 will happen in eight countries — Congo, Egypt, Ethiopia, India, Nigeria, Pakistan, the Philippines and Tanzania.

Global life expectancy at birth reached 72.8 years in 2019. Yet in 2021, life expectancy for the least developed countries lagged 7 years behind the global average.

LIFE EXPECTANCY

Life expectancy at birth for women (73.8) exceeds that for men (68.4) by 5.4 years globally

In 2021, the average fertility of the world's population stood at 2.3 births per woman, having fallen from about 5 in 1950.

Global fertility projected to decline to 2.1 births per woman by 2050

Share of global population of the 65+ years age group is projected to rise from 10% in 2022 to 16% in 2050

Populations of 61 countries or areas projected to decrease by 1% between 2022 and 2050

ISRO launches world's first facility to track space debris, safeguard assets

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) on Monday inaugurated the world's first-ever facility dedicated to monitoring space debris and safeguarding assets in space, which is expected to significantly help combat the growing threat to orbiting satellites and space stations.

The ISRO System for Safe and Sustainable Space Operations & Management (IS4OM) was inaugurated in Bengaluru on Monday, with Minister of State for the Department of Space Jitendra Singh saying that the facility would better help with space traffic monitoring.

"Just like the amount of traffic on the roads in Bengaluru, you realise how many satellites there are, how much debris there is that could lead to collisions. We need a way to detect, forestall, remove and capture them, that is the next point of concern," he said.

IS4OM is ISRO's holistic approach to ensure safety of space assets and sustain the utilization of outer space for national development.

In response to ever-growing space object population and the risk of collisions in space, it undertakes observation and monitoring of space objects and space environment, processing the observations for orbit determination, object characterization and cataloguing, analysis of space environment evolution, risk assessment and mitigation, and data exchange and collaboration.

The system will safeguard all Indian space assets by mitigating the collision threats from space objects through specific orbit manoeuvres and comply with international guidelines on post-mission disposal and satellite's end-of-life operations. CONTINUED ON: P2

Ganesha stalls to come up at Idgah Maidan

Hindu outfits respond to MLA's peace call

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS Bakrid concludes, Hindu outfits have planned to put up Ganesha idol stalls at Chamarajpet Idgah Maidan.

Chamarajpete Okkoota Samithi and Vishwa Sanatha Parishad have intensified their campaign for Chamarajpet Bandh over the Idgah Maidan controversy. In response to local MLA Zameer Ahmad Khan's 'peace and inclusive' meeting two days ago, the Hindu outfits will shut shops and plan to put up 30 Ganesha idol stalls at the playground later.

The activists have reached out to traders from Taragupete and Chamarajpete surroundings to take part in the bandh, and has reportedly received a positive response. "The bandh is voluntary and no traders or shop owners will be forced to shut shop. We would observe a day-long bandh as we believe that the BBMP is succumbing to MLA's pressure in matters related to the playground," said S Bhaskaran, president, Vishwa Sanatha Parishad.

He claimed that as per records the land belongs to the Palike, and only the court can decide on the matter. "We will continue our struggle to ensure the general public also gets a chance to use the land for other activities. This time, we would put up 30 stalls to sell Ganesha idols. When goats can be sold, why not Ganesha idol stall be put up?" Bhaskaran questioned.

Earlier, the BBMP had said that 2.5 acres of land at Chamarajpet has no owners and as per 1974 revenue records, the land belongs to Palike, but later the Central Muslim Association, a custodian of the land under Wakf Board, gave Gazzette notification stating that that the land belongs to the board.

The Palike had sent notice to the Wakf Board asking them to submit more documents within a week for verification. If the records show their ownership, the board will be asked to apply for khatha. "It's been three days since we sent a notice. After two days we will again send a reminder," SM Sreenivasa, Joint Commissioner, West said.

DCP West Division Sanjeev M Patil said that any bandh is illegal and the department will go deploy police in the area. "If there is any forcible closure of shops, or any other untoward incident, the police will immediately react," he said.

ELABORATE SECURITY ARRANGEMENTS FOR BANDH

BENGALURU: Elaborate security arrangements has been made by the West Division police in view of Tuesday's Chamarajpet Bandh called by a local outfit over the ownership of Idgah Maidan. Four Assistant Commissioners of Police, 12 police inspectors, 30 police sub-inspectors, 410 ASIs, head constables, police constables along with four platoons of Karnataka State Reserve Police have been deployed. The division's DCP Laxman Nimbargi will supervise the arrangements. The Chamarajpet police on July 6 had warned of strict action against the outfit if they go ahead with the bandh in violation of HC order. The police have not given any permission for the bandh.

BBMP SEIZES 1,380 KG PLASTIC

BENGALURU: The BBMP authorities cracked down on the sale of single-use of plastic across eight zones in the last ten days and seized 1.380.8 kg of plastic. It collected Rs 5,97,800 as fine. As many as 990 cases have been booked. BBMP's solid waste management department had deployed health inspectors and BBMP marshals in all eight zones and kept a watch on markets, shops and godowns. The public have been asked to use cloth bags, bags made out of jute and paper instead of plastic carry bags and covers which are harmful to ecology. As per BBMP, in East Zone 203 cases were booked, 88.3 kg of plastic seized and Rs 1,07,500 collected as fine; in West Zone, 255 cases booked, 631 kg plastic seized and Rs 1,35,800 collected as fine.

Plants sprout on road in Varthur, locals call BBMP bluff

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@ Bengaluru

WHILE Bengaluru is yet to come to terms with the shame and shock following tar peeling off roads in Kommaghatta and Hebbal last month, immediately after PM Modi's visit, BBMP's shoddy work has come to light in IT hub Mahadevapura zone now.

According to Varthur Rising, a residents' welfare organisation, Varthur's Idgah Main Road and crossroads were tarred last week, but within ten days, seeds and ants have exposed the chinks in Palike's work. "Seeds have germinated in the middle of roads, and ants have built hills. The measurement of newly tarred roads at crossroads show that bitumen is not even one inch thick. The total road project for Varthur was estimated to cost Rs 24 crore, and residents here suspect something fishy now," said Jagadish Reddy, member of Varthur Rising.

When TNIE reached out to Palike ward engineer Venakatesh, he shifted the blame on previous ward engineer Nandeesh's period. "The work happened at Idgah Main Road and crossroads before I took charge some 20 days ago. We will check the records, and as per rules, the contractors will have to fix them if there is any complaint." However, residents claim Venkatesh was around when work was being executed, and say the official is trying to divert the attention of people and media after the video of shoddy work was shared on social media platforms. Last month, when PM was in Bengaluru parts of Bengaluru underwent a facelift.

EXPERTS TO STUDY TRAFFIC ILLS

BENGALURU: The BBMP has hired consultants to study the impact of bottlenecks on traffic at bottlenecks and submit a report after suggestions from Bengaluru Police Commissioner. After two night rounds, BBMP chief Tushar Girinath said the Palike have roped in experts to prepare a report. Regarding permanent solutions to traffic woes, he said that the Palike has already discussed with the railways departments at Yesvantpur and Goraguntepalya, and added there is a structural design issue. For people entering Hebbal, there is a traffic pile and hence U-turn from beneath the bridge is recommended and Palike has agreed to go for land acquisition and spend Rs 9 crore.

We are in a sensitive phase, must make sensible decisions: Sudhakar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MINISTER for Health and Family Welfare Dr Sudhakar noted that though there are enough good government programmes on population control, there is a need to question how far they have reached people. There is a need to create adequate awareness on those government programmes among people, besides respecting human rights and aspirations towards their family planning, as law cannot be forcefully imposed in this regard. He was speaking on a World Population Day event on Monday.

"Indian population (140 crore) contributes one-tenth of the world population, and has increased by eight times compared to the pre-Independence period when we our population was just 25 crore. But the geographical area and natural resources like water have remained the same, nature gives enough for our need not our greed. Being in a scientifically advanced world, we are in a very sensitive phase. We are already witnessing climate change and natural disasters like excess rainfall and landslides, so we need to make sensible decisions and leave nature the way it is for future generation. Due to advanced healthcare system, our lifespan has increased. We can nurture two children better and make them more productive, he said.

STRAY DOG MENACE BACK AGAIN

BENGALURU: The stray dog menace that had kept the BBMP on its toes earlier is again back to haunt the municipality as a woman walker was attacked by a pack of stray dogs on Monday at Ulsoor Lake Park. Other walkers said the dogs charged at the walker and bit her in the right leg. The wound was deep and it started bleeding. The terrified victim was rushed to a nearby hospital. It is said that around 20 stray dogs at Gate 1 chase walkers and children who come to the park. "There were some children playing and the dogs were charging at them. The victim came in and she was attacked.

Facility will be able to remove debris: ISRO chief

IS4OM will currently work as a facility using data from various satellites to help detect space objects and use this as a way to avoid collisions.

ISRO Chairman S Somanath said the facility will eventually work towards systems and crafts that will be able to remove or destroy space debris to prevent a rising concern about Kessler Syndrome, which states that a collision in space due to pollution could increase the number of space debris, increasing the number of potential collisions due to the multiplying space debris.

"The accuracy with which we currently predict where debris will fall can be as inaccurate as 300km as seen by recent incident of Chinese space debris in Maharashtra where it was predicted to fall in the sea. This facility will work towards improving systems that allow us to predict where debris will fall with better accuracy," said Somanath. "This is only the first step in our programme. We need to have our own data, our own observations of all space objects," he said.

PETER VIDAL

12TH July: It's an Aquarian day. In plain language this means that, no matter what our individual signs, we need to think new thoughts, act in ways that we have never acted before, and generally try to make the world a better place. It's time to do our bit to save the planet!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A word is necessary about your professional affairs. I don't foresee any unexpected changes, but you must be aware that a certain amount of back-tracking is necessary, and that this may result in temporary frustration. However, it will all be worth it!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
With the Moon now so strong in your solar chart, you have an ideal opportunity to prove just how perceptive and open to a partner's needs you really are. Your maternal qualities are at their best, so you may be taking control at home or accepting a new professional responsibility.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Although it may go against the grain, you will have to smile sweetly, no matter what other people say or do. It is undoubtedly a perfect time for forgiveness, even if others are going all out for revenge. A soothing word will completely take the wind out of their sails.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You seem to be angry about an emotional or family question, though whether you can do anything about it is another matter. Given that you will indeed be able to right an injustice, the question now is where to start? You might have to begin at the end and work back!

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
It is surely better to stick to methods which are tried and tested and have proved themselves over the past few months. One thing you have to strive for is respect from partners and associates, and this will come if you show that you are prepared to be true to your word.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Moral and ethical considerations are vital, for it's important that you do the right thing. You may not gain materially from being noble and selfless, but you will surely boost the quality of your life. Optimism is the theme for the next twenty-four hours.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
In a matter of days the Sun will have altered its position, putting the onus on you to improve your financial situation. Joint arrangements will be most significant, so preserve and build on all important relationships. Somebody is waiting for you to make the first

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You're honestly not sure whether private or public life is more important. Perhaps other people can help you, so why not ask around? For once partners are in a very good position to offer a helping hand, and it may become clear that you can indeed pursue different options at the same time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Take the fullest possible advantage of today's amazingly favourable planetary aspects to lift your spirits. It matters not whether your life is easy or difficult, just as long as you keep things in perspective. Also, only make commitments you know that you can stick to.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
You seem to be reorganising your home, but you are also about to change your mind about what you want. The only way to tackle family relationships is through realising that nobody, not even you, can ever be free of the past. You can be fully independent and fulfil your duties at the same time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
An unusual amount of planetary activity in sensitive regions of your chart is drawing your attention to certain quibbles and queries at home. Problem-solving is now on the agenda, so get on with creating a brighter future. The past may seem like a golden age, but your memory might be playing tricks on you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Now you really ought to be out of the doldrums. Venus lines up with friendly planets to create a sense that the world is rather a wonderful place after all, so put on your rose-tinted spectacles before you go out this morning. It's time to wear your happy face!

No tainted officer to be posted to ACB: HC

Family and relatives should be in the clear too

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a significant move, the Karnataka High Court on Monday directed the state government not to post any tainted officers to the Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB), considering serious lapses on the part of the ACB's ADGP Seemanth Kumar Singh, and inaction on the part of the ACB in dealing with the bribery case allegedly involving IAS officer J Manjunath, former deputy commissioner of Bengaluru Urban.

Pointing out the evidence available before court and the objective of the court in monitoring the investigation, Justice HP Sandesh passed the order that it is appropriate to direct the Chief Secretary and Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) to take note of public interest, while posting officers to the institution, which is established for prevention of corruption.

Justice Sandesh, who was hearing the bail plea of PS Mahesh, former deputy tahsildar who was Manjunath's personal assistant, directed the chief secretary to ensure that the officer, at the time of posting, has credibility and will take the ACB to greater heights.

Meanwhile, secretary of DPAR told the court that the chief secretary would be informed while posting an officer at the helm of such office by furnishing details regarding service records, integrity of the officer, etc. However, deputy secretary of the DPAR had earlier made a submission before court that this exercise could not be done due to pressure. Recalling it in the order, Justice Sandesh directed that in the interest of the public, pressure should not be heeded to.

Justice Sandesh also made it clear that while posting officers to the ACB, the government should not have any consideration, whether external or internal influence, as a criteria.

He ordered that officers posted to the institution, their family members or relatives should not have faced investigation either by the ACB or Lokayukta, as there are chances of them taking advantage. Directing the registry to communicate this order to the chief secretary and secretary of the DPAR, Justice Sandesh adjourned the bail plea hearing to July 13, 2022, in view of the special leave petition filed by the ADGP as well as ACB, coming up for hearing before the Supreme Court on Tuesday.

JUDGE RECORDS 'THREAT' DETAILS IN COURT ORDER

NO ACTION TAKEN BY STATE: CBI

The CBI submitted a report about probe conducted pursuant to the raid on the residence of Seemanth Kumar Singh when he was Ballari SP. Since the materials collected indicated a case under Prevention of Corruption Act, the CBI had addressed a letter in 2015 to the chief secretary to enquire into the matter. However, the state has not replied, the CBI informed the court. Investigation was taken up by CBI into illegal mining in Ballari, following directions of the to court, the counsel informed. None of the state government departments -- revenue, forest, police and others -- had taken action against illegal mining.

"A fellow judge told me that a person who called him over phone from Delhi not only enquired about me, but also gave an instance of getting a high court judge transferred," disclosed Justice HP Sandesh, the Karnataka High Court judge who received a 'transfer threat' after he made scathing remarks against Anti-Corruption Bureau (ACB) ADGP Seemanth Kumar Singh and ACB for their inaction against IAS officer and former Bengaluru Urban Deputy Commissioner J Manjunath in a bribery case.

Hearing the bail plea of an accused in the DC's office bribery case, Justice Sandesh recorded in the order that the fellow judge sat next to him during a dinner arranged during a farewell for Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi on July 1, 2022.

"That fellow judge informed me that a person called from Delhi over phone (name not disclosed) and enquired about me. Then I replied that I am not affiliated to any political party. Even after that, the judge did not stop and continued that the ADGP is from North India and powerful, and also revealed an instance about the transfer of a high court judge," Justice Sandesh recorded in the order.

Defending the circumstances that warranted him to made remarks against the ACB and ADGP, summoning of B-Reports filed by ACB and Singh's service records, Justice Sandesh indicated that he had already informed all concerned about the 'threat', which is not only a threat to court but an attack on the independence of the judiciary.

SLP BEFORE SUPREME COURT

Senior advocate Ashok Harnahalli submitted that a Special Leave Petition (SLP) is filed by Singh before the apex court, against the order of high court. The ACB also filed an SLP before the apex court, and both are coming up for hearing on Tuesday. The hearing was adjourned to Wednesday.

Three who robbed homes in guise of maids arrested

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THREE women who committed thefts in upscale residential complexes in Mumbai in the guise of house maids have been arrested in the Maharashtra capital. The arrested are Priyanka (29), Mahadevi (26), and Vanitha (37), all from Mumbai. According to the police, they also committed a theft using the same modus-operandi in Bengaluru.

According to police, they approach their victims by uploading their resumes with false information on social media groups such as 'Refer House Maids.' After joining work, they would flee with valuables. They also used SIM cards of mobile phones stolen from crowded trains in Mumbai.

Of the three, Mahadevi had managed to get a job at a house in Hennur. She had given a fake Aadhaar card identifying herself as Subbalakshmi of Dakshina Kannada. The accused started working on May 3 and on May 6 with the help of the two others, she committed the theft when the house owner Aravind had gone out. The trio escaped with 250 gm of gold ornaments and 100 gm of silver coins.

"Mahadevi had given her mobile phone number to the complainant. After her escape, the police, when called, realised that the phone had been stolen in Mumbai. The women were arrested from Mumbai. The police managed to get clues of the accused based on their resumes which they had uploaded on social media," said the police. The accused use different identities. The kingpin is Vanitha. The other two act on Vanitha's instructions. They also approach watchmen of apartments to check if there is any need for maids.

Grad uses tech tool to steal cars

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

USING Xtool Auto Diagnostic Tool, a 32-year-old BCom graduate, also a habitual criminal, was stealing high-end cars from the city's IT corridor. The accused, identified as Arun Kumar, has been arrested by HSR Layout police and 10 cars and a bike, all worth Rs 70 lakh, have been recovered from him.

The accused had learnt the art of using the tool by watching videos on YouTube. He got to know about the tool from another criminal when he was lodged at a sub-jail in Andhra Pradesh. Kumar had been arrested in a dacoity case by the police and was kept at the Madanapalli sub-jail. He came in contact with a a car-lifter Rakesh inside the jail premises. Rakesh had told him about the tool.

After coming out of jail on bail, Kumar watched videos on YouTube and purchased a tool. He would then steal the high-end cars during night time using the tool in HSR Layout and other surrounding areas. After committing a series of crimes in Andhra Pradesh, he shifted his base to Karnataka.

Kumar, a native of Mulabagilu taluk in Kolar district, sold the stolen cars at a cheaper price at Thiruvannamalai, Chennai, Vellore, Namakkal, Nagapattinam and other places in Tamil Nadu. He would spend the money on parties.

Drunk men hurl bottles at Mysuru Flybus, crack pane

Bengaluru: Two men, under the influence of alcohol, hurled empty liquor bottles and damaged the window panes of KSRTC's Mysore Flybus. The incident occurred around 2.05am Monday near Silk Market in Ramanagara. One window on the left side of the bus was damaged. The Flybus was going towards Mysuru from Bengaluru International Airport. None of the 17 passengers on board were injured. They were later sent in another Flybus to Mysuru. "The driver reported the matter to night beat police. KSRTC's security officer visited the spot on Monday and conducted an inspection. The matter was reported to the jurisdictional police," said a senior KSRTC officer. On checking CCTV footage from the vicinity, police found two men on a bike throwing empty liquor bottles at the bus window and fleeing.

- Madan Gopal: Curriculum for children from Grades 3-5 will be discussed in Oct meet
- 800-850 position papers prepared all over the country by all the states

NEP head: Position papers won't come into effect now

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AMID the ongoing controversy over the implementation of the National Education Policy, more so after the position papers became accessible to everyone, Madan Gopal, head of the task force in Karnataka for NEP, said the position papers are not being implemented immediately or even the next academic year. The education ministry is also working on holding the Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE) Committee meeting, headed by K Kasturirangan, in October where the curriculum for children from Grades 3-5 will be discussed.

Gopal told TNIE that 800-850 position papers have been prepared all over the country by all the states. While each state has prepared 25, Karnataka is ready with 26 (the additional being school governance and leadership). Each is a comprehensive report prepared by an expert committee, comprising experienced academicians, and these reports will be placed before the NCERT and the ministry to take the decision. The position papers show the thinking of the committee members.

Explaining the confusion over the Pythagoras theorem, Newton's law of gravity and Sanskrit language to be taught to children and reference to sciences learnt over the years as "rubbish", Gopal said in the position papers, the committee members have not said children should not be taught what is being taught. But alongside, students must also know about the contributions of Indian scientists, academicians and medical experts and their importance. "If you will not read and do not want to read, then you will criticise. The reports do not rubbish Pythagoras theorem or others such. Many children think India has not made any contribution to the fields. They need to be informed. These are the preparatory background papers for the NEP curriculum framework and revising the teachers' training module. It will be a prolonged process before it is implemented," he said.

On the topic of including the genocides which happened and addition of new chapters, Gopal said students should know the truth, just like South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission report. "Earlier, many facts and information had been removed from history books because of certain ideologies. Whether we like it or not, Hindu genocides have happened, so the facts should be put out. Each state has put out its position papers and we do not know what other states have done. We have to assess all those things. The position papers are the viewpoints of particular people and we did not ask anyone to lean to any side or post any hidden agenda. It is not necessary for everyone to agree to their viewpoints, but it is information to be put on the public domain for people to access," he added. The committee members wondered why the issue was being raked up now when the position papers were put up on the Department of State Educational Research and Training (DSERT) website in May. Some of them also opined that it was being timed with the ongoing textbook controversy where Kannada chapters were being questioned.

On the language row, Gopal said NEP is for state syllabus and Kannada will be there till Grade 12. The second language will be English and the third language will be national languages, including Malayalam, Kannada and many others, including Sanskrit. It is one of the languages.

'Must follow best works from across the world'

DONNA EVA AND SHILPA P @Bengaluru

SEVERAL education experts voiced their opposition to the National Education Policy 2020 (NEP) position papers, which recently came under the spotlight.

These papers push Indian concepts in relation to the often-taught Western concepts in schools, making school education India-centric. But these concepts have come under criticism for being poorly thought out. "Unless we follow the best and highest works done by others in other parts of the world, we cannot grow. In a competitive world, we need to evolve and expand our horizons of knowledge, and we cannot insist that our students restrict their horizon to just India-based experts and expertise," said Dr KS Rangappa, president of the Forum of Former Vice-Chancellors of Karnataka.

"The issues surrounding the Pythagoras theorem and other Western concepts have never been questioned. Now, they're being questioned. It's being done with no proof and only on the evidence of oral tradition. They must take the opinions of science experts on issues like these," Niranjan Aradhya, an education specialist, said.

A particularly big change proposed is a multilingual system of teaching with Kannada taught at all levels of schooling as well as importance given to local languages and mother tongues as proposed in the 'Language Education' position paper. "A lot of clarification is needed for language imposition. Even with Kannada, there are many dialects. Whatever language taught in schools must be textual that you can write textbooks in and not oral languages. When they mention home languages, mother tongues, local languages, what do they mean?" said Dr B R Gopal, a retired principal and education professor at MES Teachers' College. Prof Hemanth Kumar, V-C of Mysuru University and a member of a Committee in UGC on "implementing Indian Knowledge System in our education system", said, "In our committee, we propose to create awareness among students on the Indian knowledge system. But information on experts and their contributions from other countries should not be discarded."

SIDDARAMOTSAVA

B'day bash: Bid to win back Ahinda votes

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

LOYALISTS of Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah are working overtime to ensure that their leader's 75th birthday celebrations, Siddaramotsava, at Davangere is a huge success. The event, likely to be attended by over 4 lakh people, is being seen by many as a springboard for Sidaramaiah to take the centre stage ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections and to rekindle hopes of traditional Congress backers.

Siddaramaiah has, on many occasions, stated that he is not sure of his birthday and the date was entered by his teacher Rajappa when he was admitted directly to the fifth standard at Siddaramanahundi. Being a socialist, he had shied away from celebrating his birthday publicly.

But 75 years is a milestone that his supporters want to celebrate for more reasons than one. Siddaramotsava will give them scope to organise more such political events, including caste-based rallies to project Siddaramaiah as the best bet in the run-up to the polls, though Congress is harping on the collective leadership mantra.

While the party did not allow Siddaramaiah to hold Ahinda rallies, the event will consolidate this large section of voters, over whom he has considerable influence. The rally could also woo back minority voters, who may have been swayed by the exit of Siddaramaiah's friend and excellent orator CM Ibrahim from the party recently. Minorities voters have a sway over 65 Assembly segments.

Former minister and Siddaramaih's close aide HC Mahadevappa said the celebration will lay out a map to bring Congress back to power in the state. He maintained that there is no confusion or ego clash among leaders as Siddaramaiah has invited AICC former president Rahul Gandhi, Mallikarjun Kharge, DK Shiva Kumar, and other top leaders with the sole intention of throwing away the BJP government. Over 50,000 Congressmen from Mysuru and neighboring districts will take part in the mega event, he added.

The organisers are also planning to bring to the event a big chunk of Lingayats and Veerashaivas, who are upset with the sudden removal of BS Yediyurappa as chief minister. It is an opportunity for Siddaramaiah to patch up with the community, which had earlier accused him of dividing it over the Lingayat-Veearshaiva row. The organising committee has many prominent leaders including MB Patil, who is a Lingayat.

A Congress leader said they are also keen to see what will be the internal dynamics within the party after the rally. "Will it create tremors, make other leaders mellow down or come out with a counter-strategy is to be seen. I feel all will be well if Siddaramaiah's supporters don't take the success of the event to their head, and chant the unity mantra," he added.

Support to Murmu triggers murmurs in JDS

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WHILE JDS support to NDA presidential candidate Droupadi Murmu is a foregone conclusion pending a formal ratification, those close to Kupendra Reddy, who was the party candidate in the recently held Rajya Sabha polls, are wondering why the party could not work out a quid pro quo deal with BJP for extending support to Murmu and ensure his victory. With such a deal, BJP's third candidate Lehar Singh Siroya would not have filed the nomination, allowing a smooth passage for Reddy, they said.

Asked if such a deal could have been worked out, Reddy said, "They could have done it." On the party vacillating between BJP and Congress depending on situations, JDS state president CM Ibrahim said, "First, we have to keep in mind that we are a regional party. The other presidential candidate Yashwant Sinha visited Bengaluru. Did he come to us? No. Murmu, who is sure of her victory, came to us. Then, who should we support? She comes from a very backward ST community too. Remember, this is a presidential election and the question of narrow party affiliations do not arise. We have called a meeting on July 13 and will take a decision on that day." But Opposition leader in the Council BK Hariprasad said, "When JDS was part of the meeting at Mallikarjun Kharge's residence, why did it support and ratify Yashwant Sinha's candidature?"

Clarifying, president of the JDS Parliamentary Board HK Kumaraswamy said, "But Murmu had not been chosen as the candidate then. We decided to support her after realising that she was an ST from an extremely backward community. JDS has still not decided to support her. We have 32 MLAs, two MLAs in Kerala and a member each in the Rajya Sabha and Lok Sabha."

Political analysts said JDS has long-term interests in backing Murmu. The party has enjoyed chief ministership twice, from 2006-2008 and again from 2018 to 2019. If the 2023 polls throw up a hung Assembly, JDS could ally with any party in power and in such an eventuality, access to the Rashtrapati Bhavan to get assent for bills and ordinances would be an added plus, they pointed out.

The police detain farmers demanding State Advisory Price for sugarcane in Bengaluru on Monday

Farmers try to lay seige to CM's residence over cane advisory price

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SEVERAL farmers on Monday staged an agitation demanding that the Union Government announce the State Advisory Price (SAP) for sugarcane.

More than 2,000 farmers from outside the city arrived at the Krantiveera Sangolli Rayanna railway station and marched to the Freedom Park. They were detained and later let off when they tried to lay seige to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's residence.

> Badagalapura Nagendra, state president of farmers' association

The traffic was thrown out of gear for a while along Race Course Road, Mourya Circle, and Sheshadri Road for a while. Badagalapura Nagendra, state president of farmers' association, said that the government has to fix a price of Rs 4,500 per quintal of sugarcane and wanted the mills to clear the dues on time. "Farmers are being cheated in several ways and the government is not responding properly," he said. Later, Bommai met the protesting farmers at his residence and assured that the government will take necessary steps to address their demands.

The farmers, who were convinced about the assurance given by the CM, announced that they will withdraw the protest.

Set aside differences, work united, DKS tells workers

> DK Shivakumar

KPCC president DK Shivakumar asked Youth Congress, Mahila Congress and National Student Union of India (NSUI) members to reach out to people to know what are their expectations and what the party needs to include in its election manifesto.

Addressing members of Youth Congress in Bengaluru, Shivakumar said the survey to gather information from youth can be done by visiting houses or online by using an application developed for the purpose. He asked the Youth Congress leaders to set aside any differences and work unitedly for the party. They should be loyal to the party and not individual leaders, he said. He said 61% of those who took the membership during the party's membership enrollment drive are youth and their assistance can be taken to gather information. He appreciated suggestions from youth Congress leaders on formulating employment policies.

He said in next one month he will be visiting 80 to 100 assembly constituencies to create awareness about the party's Freedom March on August 15. He appealed other leaders, including Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah to tour the districts to create awareness about the march. The party has decided to take out 75 km padayatra in all the districts to mark the 75th Independence Day celebrations. In Bengaluru, around one lakh people will take part in the march. They have sought permission from the authorities to hold the event in Basavangudi Grounds in Bengaluru, he said.

He said officials investigating the PSI recruitment scam are coming under pressure from politicians. The statements of those arrested in the case should be recorded in court and judicial probe should be ordered, he said.

An ideological fight: Kharge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kalaburagi

LEADER of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge on Monday said that the July 13 meeting of leaders of like-minded Opposition parties to discuss the strategy to be adopted for the July 18 Presidential elections has been deferred to July 17. Addressing the media, Kharge said the date has been moved as several leaders were preoccupied with other engagements on July 13. "Leaders will join the meeting personally or virtually," he added.

He said Jharkhand Mukti Morcha was yet to make its stand clear on supporting Opposition joint candidate Yashwant Sinha. "AAP has assured former Maharashtra CM and NCP supremo Sharad Pawar of supporting Sinha," he said. "Winning or losing is secondary. It is an ideological fight to protect democracy. For that we need unity among the opposition, he said.

On the turmoil in Sri Lanka, Kharge termed it an "unfortunate development." When asked whether India too will face a similar economic crisis, Kharge said that he does not want to compare the economic situation of both the countries. "We have warned our PM about rising inflation and our economic condition. But he does not pay any heed. Our country should learn lessons from Sri Lanka," he said.

On developments in Goa, Kharge said, "It is a matter of shame that the BJP is trying to indulge in Operation Lotus in Goa." He said the BJP has its own majority only in Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha and a few states like UP. "In other states, they formed the government with the help of MLAs who defected from other parties. The main intention of BJP is coming to power, for this they are ready to do anything."

15 years on, Koppal farmer yet to get compensation for his acquired land

SHREEPADA AYACHIT @ Koppal

EVEN after 15 years of acquiring land, the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board (KIADB) is yet to pay the compensation to farmer Andanagouda Patil of Binnal village in Kukanoor taluk of Koppal district.

It was in 2007 that KIADB acquired over 1,000 acres of land for steel industries in and around Basapura village on the outskirts of Koppal. The board provided a compensation of Rs 3 lakh per acre to the affected farmers, but missed out Andanagouda, who had purchased an acre of land on Survey Number 132 in Basapura village before the land acquisition. Instead of giving the compensation to Andanagouda, KIADB provided it to the land's previous owner. When Andanagouda brought it to the notice of KIADB and revenue department officials, KIADB recovered Rs 3.66 lakh including interest from the previous owner. But, till now, no compensation has been paid to Andanagouda, though he has made several rounds to the KIADB office in Dharwad.

"I wrote to Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, seeking compensation, but that also went in vain," he told The New Indian Express.

A dejected Andanagouda on June 13 this year shot off letters to the state government, threatening to commit suicide along with his family in front of the chief minster's office in Bengaluru if the compensation along with interest for the past 15 years is not paid to to him within a month.

While KIADB officials were unavailable for reaction, Assistant Commissioner Basavaneppa Kaalshetty told The New Indian Express on Monday that the issue will be looked into and compensation will be ensured to Andanagouda as soon as possible.

Bharat Gaurav train from Bengaluru next month

BENGALURU: IRCTC's Bharat Gaurav train will depart from Bengaluru to Kashi in the third week of August, Minister for Muzrai, Haj and Wakf Shashikala Jolle said. Jolle told reporters on Monday that the seven-day tour progra-mme at discounted ticket fares for pilgrims will cover holy places, including Varanasi, Ayodhya and Prayagraj in Uttar Pradesh. "Most people desire that Kashi Yatra should be undertaken at least once in a lifetime. Karnataka is the first state in the country to provide Bharat Gaurav train service at low cost, with the Muzrai department formulating the pilgrimage package," she said. The 7-day tour will cover a route of 4,161 km costing Rs 15,000, of which the government of Karnataka will give a subsidy of Rs 5,000, she added. ENS

HIGH COURT REFUSES TO 'INTERFERE'

The Madras High Court refused to stall the GC meeting, opting against "interfering" in the party's internal affairs. It also rapped OPS for approaching the court instead of fighting it out before the GC

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

EDAPPADI K Palaniswami (68) took over the reins of the AIADMK on Monday as interim general secretary. The special session of the general council (GC) abolished the dual leadership posts of co-ordinator and joint coordinator and declared that within four months, the primary members of the party will elect the general secretary.

All powers shared by the coordinator and joint coordinator have been transferred to the general secretary. Palaniswami's election as general secretary in four months is only a formality.

At the GC meeting, AIADMK leaders expelled O Panneerselvam and three of his key supporters from the party and stripped them of their party positions. Former minister Dindigul Sreenivasan has been made the new treasurer of the party in the place of Panneerselvam.

In response, Panneerselvam "expelled" Palaniswami and KP Munusamy from the party. Meanwhile, at Karambakudi in Pudukkottai district, VK Sasikala, who still claims to be the AIADMK general secretary, said Monday's GC meeting is invalid as her petition questioning the validity of the 2017 GC meeting ousting her is pending disposal.

AIADMK sources said the changes made in the party apparatus on Monday will be intimated to the Election Commission (EC) within a day or two, and steps will be taken to remove Panneerselvam from the post of deputy leader of Opposition as he has been expelled from the party.

SP Velumani, among a few other functionaries, is being considered to replace him in the House. A meeting of the AIADMK legislature party is likely to be convened for this soon.

Meanwhile, sources said Panneerselvam too will move the EC, complaining about violations of the party bylaws at Monday's meeting.

Supporters clash, AIADMK HQ sealed

SINDUJA JANE @Chennai

THE centrally-located Avvai Shanmugam Salai resembled a war zone on Monday morning as supporters of AIADMK leaders O Panneerselvam and Edappadi K Palaniswami clashed outside the party office, armed with stones, bricks, and sticks, minutes before the court verdict on a crucial general council meeting. The police resorted to lathicharge and imposed Section 144 on the stretch. Subsequently, Sub Divisional Magistrate South Chennai Selvi K Sai Vardini sealed 'MGR Maaligai,' the third time the heaquarters have been sealed in the party's 35 years.

Police said at least 44 people, two policemen, and a passerby were injured and three buses (allegedly ferrying OPS' supporters), three cars, and two-wheelers were damaged. Royapettah police arrested 14 people from both factions.

The clash broke out when EPS' supporters tried to prevent OPS and his followers from entering the party office around 8.45 am ostensibly to pay respects before the statues of former party leaders MGR and J Jayalalithaa. After OPS' supporters broke into the office, stone-pelting and minor arson ensued. Once the lathicharge began, several AIADMK workers rushed into a supermarket and downed the shutters with customers and staff inside. "We had to forcibly open the shutter and nab them for trespassing into private property. Some others barged into a wedding hall while a wedding was being solemnised," said a police officer.

'HEAVY RAIN GOOD FOR LONG-DURATION CROP'

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

HEAVY rain and floods have wreaked a havoc in many parts of the state, but agriculture experts are also of the view that the torrential downpour this time of the year could help farmers go for long duration crops in some parts of the state.

According to the Karnataka State Disaster Management Centre (KSNDMC), from July 1 till date, the state has received 184 mm of rain as against 92 mm normal rainfall. Heavy rain was recorded at Malnad and coastal Karnataka. Prof MB Rajegowda, agrometeorologist and former Registrar, University of Agriculture Sciences (UAS) told TNIE that in Karnataka heavy rain is normally recorded in third week of July each year. But this year, it has advanced by two weeks which has given a bonus time for farmers to go for long duration crop, he said.

Gowda explained that farmers with the help of local university experts can go for red gram, ragi, jowar, maize and even groundnut, depending on soil variety, and sowing can be taken till July-end. "Farmer can go for four months or 135 day crop as against 90 or three months. Longer the duration for these crops, higher the yield. Even quality will be better and farmers can expect good price too" he said.

With good rain during summer, farmers have chosen short-duration crop in Chamarajanagar, parts of Mysuru, Kalburgi, Bidar and other places. Sources from the Department of Agriculture said that in many places farmers have taken short duration crop like cow-pea, green gram and other crops which were sown in April. With ample rain, soil moisture was intact and that made farmers to get the crop by June-end and July first-week. In some places, farmers were advised to take up second crop for this year and it will be longer duration crop, sources said.

Officials from KSNDMC said this has been good for farmers. "In June this year, state saw deficit rainfall especially in Malnad region. If that deficit continues, it would be problem for farmers. But good rain in July has fortunately compensated the deficit," sources said.

Kodagu sees heavy rain

HEAVY and continuous rainfall is also lashing Kodagu even as the district recorded 66.71 mm rainfall in the past 24 hours. Restoration work was in progress on a road at Agumbe Ghat in Udupi on Monday after the landslide that occurred on Sunday halted vehicular movement between Udupi and Shivamogga districts through this route. Heaps of soil on the road were removed by Monday evening.

Cauvery and Kapila rivers are in spate with heavy discharge of more than 72,000 cusecs of water from KRS and 38,000 cusecs from Kabini reservoir following heavy rain in Kodagu and Wayanad region. More landslides were reported from Uttara Kannada district leading to temporary closure of the state highway connecting Karwar with Belagavi and Dharwad districts. PWD Minister C C Patil visited Donigal on Shiradi Ghat of Bengaluru-Mangluru NH-75 where 50 m of the stretch was damaged due to a landslide.

Highway connecting Karwar with Dharwad temporarily closed

KARWAR : With more landslides in Uttara Kannada district, State Highway connecting Karwar with Belagavi and Dharwad districts have been temporarily closed. Mullai Muhilan, Uttara Kannada Deputy Commissioner, tweeted about the landslide stating that the ghats will be closed for vehicular movement until the landslide is cleared. According to eye witnesses, the landslide occurred at around 10 am. Due to heavy rainfall, so far 230 houses have been damaged with 26 houses partially damaged in the last 24 hours and one house has been damaged completely, while 8 have been severely damaged.

Landslide debris cleared in Agumbe Ghat

UDUPI : Repair work was in full progress on the stretch in Agumbe Ghat here that was damaged in a landslide on Sunday. The landslide affected vehicular movement between Udupi and Shivamogga districts. Heaps of soil fallen on the road were removed by evening on Monday. Hebri region continued to receive heavy rains on Monday, so the removal of the soil from the road had to be continued amidst rain. Meanwhile engineers have expressed apprehension of landslide again due to lose soil, so thorough checking of the road stretch in Agumbe Ghat is being conducted.

Swapna hatched conspiracy to cause riot: Kerala govt to HC

KOCHI: The Kerala government on Monday informed the Kerala High Court that gold smuggling accused Swapna Suresh had hatched a conspiracy with some tainted people to cause a riot in the state. "With that objective, she made a statement against the Kerala chief minister, his family and others in connection with the gold smuggling case. Soon after her statement, a riot ensued and 800 cases have been registered across the state," said Director-General of Prosecution (DGP) T A Shaji. The government made the submission in response to a petition filed by Swapna, seeking to quash the two cases registered against her on charges of provocation with an intention to cause a riot and criminal conspiracy. The DGP questioned her purpose of making the statement. She cannot be a witness as she has been arraigned an accused in all those cases registered in connection with gold smuggling. She had made a similar allegation before the central agency and the investigating officer filed a statement before the court saying that all these allegations were examined and found false. The police complaint filed by MLA K T Jaleel against Swapna Suresh stated that she had conspired with some others and given a false statement before the magistrate court under Section 164 of the CrPC in a case pending before the principal district sessions court, Ernakulam, and spread false news to the media, thereby tarnishing the image of the CM, the state government and Jaleel. Therefore, she had committed offences under Sections 153 and 120 B (conspiracy) of the IPC. ENS

Six more Sri Lankan refugees reach Tamil Nadu shores

RAMANATHAPURAM : Ramanathapuram: Owing to the unending Sri Lankan economic crisis, two more families from the island nation arrived at Arichal Munai in Dhanushkodi seeking refuge early Monday morning. The total number of refugees reaching TN from the country seeking refuge in the last three months has now reached 109. According to the sources, D Balasuganthan (41), B Anuja (35), their children B Prasanna (10) and Menalaxon (8) along with T Lingeswaran (38) and his wife L Prathambikai (40), who hailed from Vavuniya district, paid a total of 5,00,000 Sri Lankan rupees to boat owners for transporting them to Tamil Nadu shores. Inquiries revealed that both the families had previously resided in the Madurai Refugee Camp, and later moved back to Lanka in 2019. ENS

Karnataka boy among 14 toppers in JEE-Main

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE National Testing Agency (NTA) has declared JEE-Main result 2022 session 1 for the June exam, conducted from June 24 to 30.

Boya Haren Sathvik from the OBC category is the lone face from Karnataka among the 14 toppers to have received 100 NTA score in Session - 1, Paper -1 (BE/BTech), while Telangana, with four toppers, had the maximum number of toppers, followed by three from Andhra Pradesh, one each from Assam, Rajasthan, Haryana, Jharkhand, Punjab and Uttar Pradesh.

Sneha Pareek from Assam was the only girl to have received 100 NTA score. In comparison, 13 boys received 100 NTA score. Two candidates from the OBC category; 10 from the general category, with two of these 10 from the EWS category, received 100 NTA score. Tanmay Gejapati from the ST category from Karnataka received 99.9456977 score.

As many as 8.72 lakh students registered for the test.

NTA scores are normalized scores across multi-session papers, and are based on the relative performance of all those who appeared for the examination in one session, the agency stated. The marks obtained are converted into a scale ranging from 100 to 0 for each session of examinees.

TTD to gold plate Srivari temple gopuram

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Tirumala

AFTER seven decades, gold plating of Ananda Nilayam (gopuram) of Sri Venkateswara temple at Tirumala will be taken up soon. However, the Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams (TTD) has decided to dispense with the traditional manual gold plating system and instead use latest technology so as to not to cause any interruption to temple darshan.

In case of manual gold plating, the temple needs to be closed for a minimum of 14 days, which is not possible given the fact that on an average 75,000 devotees are having darshan of Lord Venkateswara a day. A decision to use the latest technology from a foreign company for gold plating of Ananda Nilayam was taken in the TTD Board meeting held on Monday.

Briefing media persons, TTD Board Chairman YV Subba Reddy said they are planning to use two technologies for gold plating of the temple gopuram. One use of machinery to gold plate Ananda Nilayam. A mould of the gopuram with two parts will be made, which will be placed on the gopuram using machinery. The second is spray technology to gold plate the temple gopuram. "We have taken permission from Agama pandits to use machinery in place of the manual system for gold plating the temple gopuram. A decision with regard to which technology to be used, will be taken in the next board meeting," he explained.

HEALTHY WORLD

Gym is like place of worship, run it legally: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

GYMNASIUMS have now become a holy place like temple, mosque or church for people of all gender and ages, and hence they should function legally, the High Court of Kerala observed on Monday.

"Going to the gym is now being seen as a credit by men and women of all age groups. That is a good signal for achieving a healthy world. But the atmosphere in a gymnasium should be attractive, and it should function legally after obtaining all the statutory licences," observed Justice P V Kunhikrishnan.

The court asked the government to issue a directive to all local bodies, including corporations, to check whether any gymnasium was functioning without a licence, as mandated by the Kerala Places of Public Resort Act, 1963.

Notices must be issued to unlicensed gymnasiums, asking them to get licences within three months, the court said. However, the high court clarified that the functioning of gymnasiums should not be disturbed during the three-month notice period.

The court issued the order on a petition filed by Dhanya C and Biju Ramachandran of Neyyattinkara against the functioning of a fitness centre near their house without licence. Petitioners said the gym has been hampering their peaceful stay. The gym, functioning from 5am to 9am and 4pm to 9.30pm, played loud music, they added.

The government submitted that a licence from the local body concerned was necessary to run a gymnasium, and that several gymnasiums were functioning without licences.

NAVEEN PLAYS SMART POLITICS OVER MURMU

Naveen Patnaik's masterstroke has not only cemented Droupadi Murmu's election as the next President of India but also left many in the Opposition with little choice. Even Mamata Banerjee—a vociferous critic of Prime Minister Narendra Modi—is forced to walk a tightrope. It is not lost on her that tribal votes will be decisive in the ensuing elections. Shiv Sena chief Uddhav Thackery, fresh from the party's vertical split, faces a similar dilemma with many of his MPs rooting for the former Jharkhand Governor. Down south, YSR Congress and TDP too have pledged support. But the Biju Janata Dal supremo completely owned Murmu's nomination, right from the word go to back his former cabinet colleague. Though on an overseas tour, he was the first to tweet about her nomination, extending BJD's support. He called her Odisha's daughter and assured to garner support from all political parties in the State. He has since engaged his colleagues to reach out to Congress and even Independents. When Murmu arrived in Odisha last week, the 'brother-sister' camaraderie was quite evident.

Women have always been a large, loyal constituent of BJD and by his unflinching support for Murmu who belongs to the Santhal tribe, the BJD boss certainly collected political capital that BJP—the principal Opposition in Odisha—wanted to corner through her Presidential nomination.

The saffron party's electoral prospects were on a slide since it suffered massive losses in successive by-elections and even panchayat and urban polls. It was looking to regain ground through its Look East and Mission South policies but that looks unlikely now, thanks to BJD's unrivalled strategy. For someone who won almost every election in the last 22 years, Naveen combines political acuity and statesmanship like no other. The 76-year-old previously backed NDA on critical national issues, be it CAA, Article 370 or even incumbent President Ramnath Kovind's election.

This time too, he is aware that BJD's support is crucial for Murmu to get the desired numbers but did not lose sight of his party's political interests. Without compromising on his stated principles of women empowerment, Naveen is taking smart politics to a new level.

MIND OVER MATTER FOR DJOKOVIC

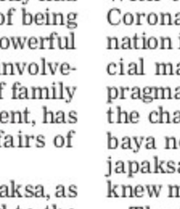
Novak to Novaxx to Grand Slam title No 21. It has been quite a journey for Novak Djokovic—from facing ridicule for not taking the Covid-19 vaccine, deportation from the Australian Open, and a loss in the French Open quarters. Rarely can mortals take these setbacks in their stride as Djokovic has. Never a favourite in Wimbledon where one Roger Federer is the dean of the surface, the Serb, over the last decade, became a sort of a de facto contender on grass. Sure, Federer is the modern grass great and his eight Majors at SW19 are proof of that. But since 2011, the 35-year-old has owned the surface. He has won the title seven times since. That itself is a fair reflection of how he developed his overall game to suit all surfaces.

In his first six Wimbledons he reached the second week twice. Since then, he has reached the second on all but one occasion. That is the perfect marriage between hard work, the discipline to achieve something special and a strong mental fortitude. Sunday's title was also significant because he finally overtook Federer on his way to the top of the men's Slam leader board. When Djokovic won his first Slam in Australia in 2008, Federer had 12. Since then, the Serbian master slowly reeled him in. Now that he has overtaken him, he will not stop there. Next in sight is his other great rival, Rafael Nadal, who has 22.

Considering Djokovic is the youngest and the fittest of the three, it should be a matter of time before he equals the Spaniard's count. But it's also hard to ignore the elephant in the room—the Serb's vaccine status. He won't be allowed to play the next two Slams. Making a bold prediction is fraught with risk because Djokovic seems fine with missing competitions. But he's healthy and with no worthy contenders emerging yet, he has the chance to settle the debate of the GOATs.

The LTTE was vanquished, but a series of blunders by governments mostly run by the Rajapaksa family since 2009 led to the ruinous economic situation

SRI LANKA: IMPLOSION IN THE MAKING



LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Being an old time Operation Pawan warrior, I instantly relate to any news from or about Sri Lanka. Over the last three months one has been observing the misery brought on its people by the Sri Lankan political leadership, no doubt one which is elected by the people and placed on a pedestal, at a certain point in time. Currently, with the streets turning violent and the mobs revelling in a Bastille-like storming of the residences of the President and Prime Minister, there is a complete breakdown in law and order with virtually no governance in place, more importantly with no future course charted out. How did it come to this?

Sri Lanka has witnessed a free fall over the last three years but the commencement of this started many years ago. The Rajapaksa family, which till recently had the ignominious honour of being one of the world's most powerful political families with involvement of a large number of family members in the government, has largely overseen the affairs of the state since 2005.

In 2009, Mahinda Rajapaksa, as President, to put an end to the raging insurgency-cum-terror which the Liberation Tigers for Tamil Eelam (LTTE) adopted for their separatist minority cause, launched his forces to hunt down the LTTE in the north and the east, in a near-conventional mode military campaign. Much of the credit for the eventual success went to younger brother Gotabaya Rajapaksa who as a former officer of the Sri Lankan Army became the Defence Secretary and led the campaign allegedly throwing human rights to the winds. The LTTE was vanquished but the Sri Lankan government did not follow this up with a pragmatic peace process for the Tamil areas hit by separatism. Since 2009, successive governments, mostly run by the Rajapaksa family, made a series of blunders which led to the ruinous economic situation. The Hambantota port and the Mattala Rajapaksa airport constructed with loans from China at a cost of over $2 billion became white elephants with almost zero utility.

Gotabaya became President in late 2019 just after the April 2019 Easter bombings by the Islamic State which hugely affected one of the main sources of income for the government—tourism. With tourism down 50%, the Coronavirus pandemic hit the nation in early 2020. Astute financial managers may have taken pragmatic measures to overcome the challenge but neither Gotabaya nor his brother Basil Rajapaksa, the Finance Minister, knew much about economics.

The Sri Lankan government lived well beyond its means for quite long. It has been to the IMF 16 times before. Currently its $51 billion foreign debt can no longer be managed. India relies considerably on the Colombo port for global trade given it is a trans-shipment hub. The port handles 60% of India's trans-shipment cargo. India-linked cargo also accounts for 70% of the port's total trans-shipment volume. A meltdown in economic terms is bad enough; it gets compounded by the lack of scope of recovery due to the simultaneous socio-political and economic issues. After the 2019 election, Gotabaya drastically cut taxes as a populist measure. The government's revenue base fell dramatically. In 2021, on the basis of amateur advice, he banned imports of chemical fertilisers which are the backbone of modern farming. Instead, he wanted Sri Lanka to be the first pure organic farming nation. Production of rice (domestic demand) and tea (export earner) crops collapsed creating a food and forex crisis. The government printed money to prop up the Sri Lankan rupee— this was inflationary and when removed the rupee went from 205/US$ to 370/US$. Imports collapsed. Gulf remittances fell as workers held on to their money in the Gulf in hope of further weakening of the rupee. International rating agencies downgraded Sri Lanka's credit ratings from 2020 onwards, eventually locking the country out of international financial markets.

> Gotabaya refused to go to the IMF for assistance when Sri Lanka was still a solvent state. His government believed that tourism would bounce back with the pandemic receding in intensity. Now it's negotiating with the IMF as a bankrupt state. The terms will obviously be much harsher

Gotabaya refused to go to the IMF for assistance when Sri Lanka was still a solvent state. His government believed that tourism would bounce back with the pandemic receding in intensity. Now it's negotiating with the IMF as a bankrupt state. The terms will obviously be much harsher. It costs a whopping ₹15000 in Indian currency for a round trip from Colombo city centre to the airport. That is the effect of insufficient fuel and unavailability of the same to consumers. With foreign exchange reserves down to just $1.5 billion, there is little scope for import unless India steps in and releases some reserves for which Sri Lanka cannot pay. It's also the medical field which is most affected as there is insufficient money to import medicines and medical equipment. Cancer treatments and major surgeries have been postponed with nothing in sight. The problem is accentuated by the fact that the IMF which is now negotiating various proposals is not quite confident who it is dealing with. In an economic crisis of this proportion, stability at the political centre of power is a necessity. No international financial institution would wish to throw in money to a set of incompetent and clueless leaders with no assurances that the terms and conditions laid down will be adhered to.

The IMF will require privatisation of the state airline, petroleum and power companies and other such state institutions. It will want a tax increase, reduction of bureaucracy and of the army too. This won't be easy. JP Morgan analysts estimate the country's gross debt servicing would amount to $7 billion this year, with the current account deficit coming in around $3 billion. The IMF won't tolerate capital intensive and unnecessary projects and will look towards maximum disinvestment by the government while it disburses loans for the recovery process.

The interim period between the current collapse and the point from which recovery could start is a period of intense challenge. No foreign investor will step in until the economy has bottomed out because no one wishes to be caught in the downward spiral where losses are for sure. It's this period which will also see maximum social unrest. When resources are minimal, a weak government in place and with ethnic and religious cleavages in society, the feasibility of violence increases. This will prevent the commencement of the recovery process and infusion of confidence of foreign investors to step in.

For India there is no other alternative but to be ready with anything it can do in the social and economic domains. Politically it's a hot potato and whatever India does must have full internal political consensus.

'SATI' LAMBAH: AN UNDERSTATED OVER-ACHIEVER

P S RAGHAVAN

Distinguished Fellow, Vivekananda International Foundation, and a former diplomat

In mid-1999, a little-known Russian national security advisor named Vladimir Putin made a brief technical halt at Delhi airport in the early hours of the morning, while en route to another Asian country. As per normal protocol, a middle-level official was to meet and see off the visitor at the airport. The Indian Ambassador in Moscow had other ideas. He told national security advisor Brajesh Mishra that Putin was a rising star in the Russian hierarchy and urged him to go to the airport himself, setting protocol (and personal convenience) aside.

Mishra may not have relished the inconvenience, but he respected the ambassador's political judgement and followed his advice. The gesture had an impact: about a year later, on his first visit to India as President, Putin told Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee of his personal rapport with Mishra. A direct line of communication was set up between Putin's chief of staff and the Indian NSA that worked well during many crises in the 2000s.

During his varied and eventful life, Satinder Kumar ('Sati') Lambah, who passed away on June 30 at the age of 81 years, enjoyed the faith of his senior colleagues, as well as the respect and affection of his peers and junior colleagues. A finely developed political sense and natural ability to connect with people across levels and cultures earned him a wide network of friends and contacts perhaps the most important asset in a diplomatic toolkit. A mastery of the intricacies of issues, an encyclopedic memory and the ability to marshal and objectively evaluate policy options enhanced his worth for policy makers.

Another of Lambah's many contributions in Russia was facilitating Oil and Natural Gas Corporation's (ONGC)investment in a hydrocarbons project in Sakhalin. This involved working the Russian system to get the best possible deal for India. But equally difficult was convincing sceptical elements in the Indian decision-making apparatus of the economic viability and strategic importance of the project. Russia was then emerging from the chaos of the Yeltsin years; many in India questioned the wisdom of such a significant investment in this uncertain climate. Again, Lambah's judgement was vindicated: Sakhalin turned out to be ONGC's most profitable investment abroad.

Diplomats around the world know well that their success in major initiatives abroad hinges on their ability to influence decision-making processes in their own countries. Lambah demonstrated this ability on numerous occasions.

Lambah displayed energy and creativity in every diplomatic and official position he held. But two of his most memorable achievements came after he retired from active service. In 2001, he was appointed India's Special Envoy for Afghanistan, in which capacity he attended the UN-organised, US-led international conference in Bonn, which was to usher in a new post-Taliban democratic dispensation in that country. He brought to it an understanding of regional geopolitics, experience of dealing with Afghan opposition groups and a network of contacts from earlier diplomatic assignments. In his memoirs, the US envoy to the Conference showered praise on Lambah's attributes. India built on his contribution to expanding its political and economic presence in post-Taliban Afghanistan.

> A finely developed political sense and natural ability to connect with people across levels and cultures earned him a wide network of friends and contacts—perhaps the most important asset in a diplomatic toolkit. A mastery of the intricacies of issues, an encyclopaedic memory and the ability to marshal and objectively evaluate policy options enhanced his worth for policy makers

The other activity for which he will be remembered is the back-channel dialogue with Pakistan. The channel, established by Prime Minister Vajpayee and President Pervez Musharraf, achieved some success in reducing cross-border tensions and extracting a formal commitment that Pakistan's territory would not be used to promote terrorism in India. When Lambah took over the mantle from Brajesh Mishra in 2004, Prime Minister Manmohan Singh gave him a wider brief. Over the next two years, Lambah and his Pakistani counterpart worked to evolve a framework in which the two countries could amicably resolve their differences over Kashmir. By 2006, it was reported that they had arrived at a formula, with a buy-in from the leadership of the two countries.

The exercise had its critics in both countries—given the issues involved, it could not have been otherwise. It was perhaps equally inevitable that the initiative stalled and was then buried under the weight of disruptive events. Such is the overhang of decades-long hostility, intense emotions and conflicting political interests that, whenever India-Pakistan relations progress even tentatively towards a thaw, events occur—by accident, design or coincidence—to derail the progress.

But it should be recognised as the first coherent bilateral effort to conceptualise an "endgame" to the depressing sequence of war and "not peace" in India-Pakistan relations since independence.

His younger colleagues appreciated Lambah's patience in mentoring them and his willingness to stand by them when they made bona fide errors of action or judgment—traits that are increasingly rare in officialdom. All of us marvelled at the unusual combination in him of an epitome of discretion, who was also an entertaining raconteur.

Sati Lambah was an over-achiever cloaked in an understated demeanour.

Religious harmony

This is with reference to the column The Credo of Live and Let Live (July 11). It is insightful and enlightening because it highlights the importance of living peacefully with people of different faiths. Epics and scriptures of all religions not only speak about codes and ethics on how to lead a godly and peaceful life, but also on how to coexist with people who have different perceptions. It is a few fundamentalists who force their ideas on others.

Hope for Sri Lanka

Apropos of All-party interim govt in SL gets opposition nod (July 11). The pictures of Sri Lankan protestors enjoying the luxury in the palace shows how awestruck they were at the opulence—amid the economic crisis in their country. It is good that there will be an all-party interim government now.

Sentiments hurt

This is with reference to Modi makes a Kali consciousness point (July 11). Amid the ongoing Kaali poster controversy, PM Modi has said the Goddess is always with India and that the spiritual energy will help in global welfare. The controversy has hurt the sentiments of Hindus. One wonders why Gods of a particular religion are attacked.

Confusing decision

This is with reference to Modi to be BJP poll 'mascot' in 3 opposition-ruled states (July 11). Bringing in a national leader to promote state politics is traditional, but abstaining from projecting the chief-ministerial face is rather odd. This will reduce the efficacy of the future CM's contributions.

John P Basile, Puducherry

We need secularism

It is unfortunate that there is a lack of true secularism in the country. BJP leader P K Krishnadas refers to 'distorted' secularism. Secularism goes for a toss in our country when it comes to implementation of policies. And this is conveniently used by political parties as vote planks. A secular country should be secular for all.

P Mangalachandran, Kannur

Youth power

Although PM Modi enjoys great popularity, the BJP should look for other prominent faces as well. The power of the youth needs to be utilised. The party should groom younger leaders to take on electoral politics. It cannot depend on only one leader to win elections.

'Panel on OBCs working on complex issues'

Minister for Social Justice Ramdas Athawale says his party RPI supports caste-base reservation system

THE Centre last week gave an extension to a panel examining sub-categorization of Other Backward Classes (OBCs) for another six months. This is the 13th extension since its formation in 2017. Former Chief Justice of the Delhi High Court Justice G Rohini, thus, has time until January 31, 2023 for the gigantic work.

The demand for the sub-categorization stems from the fact that only a handful of total OBC communities get a major chunk of the reserved jobs and seats in educational institutes.

In an interview to Preetha Nair, Union Minister of State for Social Justice and Empowerment Ramdas Athawale speaks about the status of the Rohini Commission and the need for a nationwide caste census. Excerpts from the interview:

The Commission's tenure is extended until next year. Why is the report delayed?
The Rohini Commission was formed by the Social Justice Ministry in 2017 to subcategorize around 5,000 sub-castes among the OBCs. It is an arduous task to ensure equitable distribution of benefits of reservation among the castes or communities in the category of Central list of OBCs. The commission is still studying various aspects of it. Since it is a complex subject, the commission has to consult states.

The impression is that only a section of affluent OBCs gets a lion's share of the benefits. Is the government wary of losing support of certain OBCs?
I am not aware of the findings of the Commission. Once its report is ready, it has to be discussed with states. The recommendations also need the approval of the Cabinet. Though the panel's initial mandate was to examine the distribution of reservation benefits at the Central level, its terms of reference were expanded later. It is not an easy job.

The BJP ally JD-U will conduct a caste-based census in Bihar. Your party, the RPI, too, has demanded a nationwide caste census...
I have always supported caste census. My party's position is that not only OBCs, all castes should be counted. This will provide clear data on the caste-based marginalization and deprivation. Once all castes are enumerated, we will be able to formulate schemes for the most deprived.

Verbatim

Does the caste survey conducted by states have any constitutional validity since Census is under Union List?
States can do surveys. Unlike the Census, it's not legally bound. State governments are trying to enumerate the OBC population so that there is equitable distribution of welfare schemes. Many NDA allies have demanded a caste-based census. The government should consider the demand. In Bihar, there are political compulsions.

A caste census will help to identify the economically and socially deprived sections. Once the data is available, we can design more programmes for them

Ramdas Athawale

The Centre has ruled out a caste census, saying caste-based enumeration is not feasible.
That is the position of the government. My party has always stood for caste-based census. As an MP, I have raised the issue in Parliament many times and demanded the government take an immediate decision. There are apprehensions that caste-based census will lead to more casteism. That's not the case.

Why do you root for caste-based census?
A caste census will help identify the economically and socially deprived sections. Once the data is available, we can design more programmes for them. There is a perception that OBC accounts for 52 per cent of the total population. However, we need to have a clear estimate.

Is there a fear of the repeat of Mandal politics if caste census is conducted?
When the Mandal Commission recommendations came out, the general category protested because they felt that they would lose out on reservations. Now that the NDA government has provided 10 per cent reservation to the EWS, we shouldn't be seeing such outrage.

India not sending troops to Lanka

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

INDIA has categorically ruled out sending any troops to Sri Lanka, but will continue to extend all possible support to its southern neighbour that has plunged into political-economic turmoil.

Putting all speculations around military intervention to rest, the Indian High Commission in Colombo said, "We would like to categorically deny speculative reports in sections of media and social media about India sending troops to Sri Lanka. These reports and such views are also not in keeping with the position of the Indian government."

In continuation of its help to the island nation that is battling an unprecedented economic crisis, India on Sunday sent 44,000 metric tonnes of urea under $55 million Line of credit. "We highly appreciate this gesture of friendship and cooperation from the Government of India," said the High Commissioner of Sri Lanka in New Delhi as the consignment reached Colombo.

India has already extended $3.8 billion as LOC to Sri Lanka which has enabled them to buy essentials like fuel, medicines and food. However, it is unlikely that India will get involved in resolving the current political situation in Sri Lanka. "The country has an existing debt of $40 billion. So small interventions will not help it tide over the existing crisis. Also, all the help that India has extended in the past has got embroiled in petty political controversy, so any initiative taken by India may be misconstrued at this point in time," said an expert on India-Sri Lanka relations.

Sri Lanka's former PM Mahinda Rajapaksa heavily tilted towards China. The tide turned after the Chinese-made Hambantota port became a millstone around the country's neck as it pushed it in a debt trap. Ever since, Sri Lanka has been reaching out to India to bail it out.

Veep election: Naqvi's name final, or is it?

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE word from the corridors of power appears to bring good news for Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi. He is said to be the front-runner among NDA's probable Vice Presidential candidates.

An official announcement is awaited, though the buzz is that if nothing turns unprecedented within the BJP, Naqvi is almost sure to be the NDA candidate. Speculation is that Naqvi's candidature would leave the Opposition with no option but to support him. "Naqvi has always been showing his political maturity, impartially and uprightness throughout his tenure either as a Minister of Minority Affairs or as a deputy leader in the Rajya Sabha," said a BJP leader.

After Naqvi, there is no Muslim minister at the Centre and the BJP does not have a Muslim MP among its nearly 400 Members of Parliament.

In the recent Azamgarh and Rampur by Lok Sabha polls in UP, Naqvi played a vital role in ensuring the victory of BJP candidates.

But as they say, there's many a slip between the cup and the lip. So, even as Naqvi's name is 'almost final', three new names as probable candidates have cropped up: Suresh Prabhu, Hardeep Puri and SS Ahulwalia. The three are in addition to four others — Arif Arif Khan, Najma Heptullah, Capt Amrinder Singh and Anandiben Patel.

MPs seek Agnipath rethink

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AHEAD of Parliament's monsoon session, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh and the three Service chiefs briefed a parliamentary panel on the Agnipath scheme during a meeting on Monday, but the Opposition MPs, citing the assassination of former Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe by an ex-military personnel, demanded the scrapping of the short-term recruitment scheme.

They pointed out that even former Chief of Defence Staff General Bipin Rawat favoured long-term recruitment in forces. All 12 members of the Parliamentary Consultative Committee on defence attended the meeting. Singh tried to allay the concerns flagged by the Opposition MPs but they were not satisfied. Some of them submitted a letter to him listing demands, which included holding wider consultations on the issue.

Rajnath Singh sought to allay the fears of Opposition MPs regarding Agnipath during Monday's meeting | SHEKHAR YADAV

MPs who attended the meeting included Rajni Patil, Shakti Singh Gohil and Manish Tewari from the Congress; Sudip Bandyopadhyay and Saugata Roy from the TMC; Supriya Sule from the NCP; AD Singh from the RJD and Ranjanben Bhatt and Ram Bhai Mokhariya from the BJP. Tewari did not sign the letter submitted to Singh, although he opposed the scheme per se and called for modernisation of armed forces.

During the meeting, Singh cited the large number of applications received for enrolment, but the Opposition countered saying the massive unemployment has led to youths applying in large numbers.

The MPs also brought up the Russia-Ukraine conflict to buttress their point on how long-serving soldiers are more effective as they go through rigorous training and exposure. The Centre should avoid playing politics when it comes to the defence forces, they added.

Artificial Intelligence to strengthen defence

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA'S focus on Artificial Intelligence (AI) will soon lead to the defence forces having robots not just doing sentry duty but also warning soldiers in mine-laden fields. The soldiers operating on northern borders will have an AI device to decipher Mandarin language into English. These and 72 more such devices were unveiled as Defence Minister Rajnath Singh launched the newly-developed products/technologies during the first-ever 'AI in Defence' symposium and exhibition held by his ministry on Monday.

A startup, CogKnit, run by Anuroop Iyengar, is preparing the voice recognition and Mandarin Translator. "The device is offline and can recognise voices at a distance of 5 ft. It will be helpful during the border personnel meetings and also in times of any standoffs, said officials, adding that work is on to increase the effective range to 15 ft.

On the 'robot sentry', Major Paras Kanwar said the device will challenge a person as it is enabled to differentiate between a friend and a foe. Major Kanwar also is part of an AI based offensive weapon project where a device will locate, detect and fire on an enemy.

ED summons Sonia Gandhi in National Herald case on July 21

NEW DELHI: The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has asked Congress president Sonia Gandhi to depose before it on July 21 for questioning in the National Herald newspaper-linked money-laundering case, officials said on Monday. Sonia was first issued the summons to appeaer on June 8 but was infected with Covid-19. She was again sent summons by the probe agency for June 23, but the Congress leader sought more time as she was "strictly advised to rest at home following her hospitalisation on account of Covid-19 and a lung infection". She had sought postponing of the June 23 summons by four weeks and hence, she has been asked to depose before the agency on July 21, the officials said. Her son and Congress MP Rahul Gandhi was earlier questioned by the agency in connection with the case for over 50 hours in sessions spread across five days. The probe relates to alleged financial irregularities in the Congress-promoted Young Indian Private Limited, which owns the National Herald newspaper. The move to question the Gandhis was initiated after the ED last year lodged a fresh case under the criminal sections of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, following a trial court taking cognisance of an income-tax probe against Young Indian on the basis of a private criminal complaint filed by Subramanian Swamy in 2013. ENS

More Dopplers on Centre's radar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

DAYS after cloud burst near the Amarnath cave shrine, the Centre Monday said that there is no science to predict such highly localised events and efforts are on to have more doppler radar systems in place to improve weather monitoring and forecast in the fragile Himalayan regions.

At least 17 people were killed and many are still missing after the flash floods on Friday.

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) said it was a highly localised extreme rainfall event. As per the IMD, a 'cloudburst' is one where there is 100 mm rainfall in just one hour.

The Ministry of Earth Sciences Secretary M Ravichandran said heavy rainfall events are set to increase not just at Amarnath but in other parts of the country too, owing to the changing climatic conditions.

Gives more accurate weather assessment

The Amarnath tragedy could have been averted had the doppler radar at Banihal in J&K been functional. A doppler radar gives a more accurate assessment of the clouds and rainfall in the given range of the radar

"We need to observe and understand these types of processes. For that, we don't have sufficient understanding. Isolated localised heavy rainfall less than a few kms are very difficult to predict, we don't have science to predict it," he said.

Ravichandran further said that the 'extreme' is maximum; now the 'extreme' itself has shifted to 'further extreme'. "So, we need to define heavy rainfall, extremely heavy rainfall and such various criterion again. The light rains are no more (happening)," he said.

The Amarnath tragedy could have been averted had the doppler radar at Banihal in Jammu and Kashmir been functional. But it has been over two years and there has not been any progress.

A doppler radar gives a more accurate assessment of the clouds and rainfall in the given range of the radar, that is, a 100 kilometre area.

Medal for soldiers on 75 yrs of Independence

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE government has approved a proposal to confer every serving soldier of the three Services as well as the personnel of the Central Armed Police Forces with a special medal on the occasion of India completing 75 years of Independence. It is part of the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav celebrations.

The design of the medal and ribbon is yet to be revealed. A total of over 2.2 million medals will be handed over, including around 1.2 million to the armed forces personnel.

This tradition began in 1947 and the tri-services personnel had been conferred with medals on the occasion of 25th and 50th years of Independence, too. Last time, it was given on August 15, 1997, on the occasion of the 50th year of freedom.

The Independence Medal in 1947 was given to all Indian nationals and to Nepalese Gurkhas of the Indian armed forces on August 15. Besides, it was also given to all ruling princes of States who had acceded to the Dominion of India and members of such State forces serving on the August 15, 1947.

sEven Britishers serving during the time were awarded with this medal.

India's first mRNA vax data to be studied

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation's (NTAGI) Covid working group is expected to soon discuss data related to India's first mRNA vaccine against Covid-19, an official source said Monday.

India's first homegrown mRNA Covid vaccine, developed by Gennova Biopharmaceuticals, recently received emergency use approval from the Drugs Controller General of India for the 18-plus age-group. The working group is also said to be discussing Biological E's Corbevax booster dose for Covishield and Covaxin beneficiaries.

The drug regulator's Subject Expert Committee is said to be satisfied with the data submitted by the Pune-based firm. Gennova Biopharmaceuticals submitted the data in April. They were asked for additional information, which they provided in May.

The company said they aim to produce around 4-5 million doses per month, which can be quickly doubled as soon as they get a go-ahead from the government. The company has 7 million doses approved and released by the Central Drug Laboratory. The mRNA vaccine produced by Gennova will be sold under the brand name GEMCOVAC-19.

TOYING WITH NEW IDEA

Indian toys no playthings, give China a run for its money

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IT'S official: Indian toys have turned the corner, challenging the Chinese monopoly in overseas markets. The demand for Indian traditional, theme and mythology-based toys have grown in foreign markets, manufacturers say.

According to official data, the import of Indian toys has plummeted by more than 70% in the last three years. The export of Indian toys has surged to an extent where they can beat the Chinese plush toys.

In 2018-19, India's toy import was worth $ 371 million, which drastically came down to $110 million in 2021-22, registering a big drop of over 70.35%. India's export of toys from across the country has surged by 61.38% over the last three years. Sharad Kapoor, general secretary of Toys Association of India, said: "During 2018-19, India's toy exports stood at $202 million, which is now up at 326 million.

It shows how Indian toys are making their homes abroad among children."

He said the response of international toys manufacturers towards Indian products was greater than ever at the recently concluded Toys International B2B Exhibition in Delhi.

He said the demand for made-in-India toys has increased in the US, Bhutan, the UAE, Spain and many other European countries, especially after the outbreak of Covid pandemic, which is suspected to have originated from China's Wuhan. "Customers are avoiding buying Chinese toys on safety grounds after the Pandemic outbreak," said Kapoor.

Kapoor and other toy manufacturers say the government has provided 100-acre land near the new Jewar Airport in Noida for setting up clusters of toy manufacturing units.

"The land will be handed over to us in the next few months for as many as 130 toy manufacturing clusters", Kapoor said, adding that six clusters in different states, including Karnataka, are also being developed for toys.

DEMAND FOR MYTHOLOGY-BASED TOYS UP

India's traditional toys include the 'lattu' (spinning top), the bhatukali (kitchen set toys for growing girls on kitchen and home management), the traditional pachisi, ludo, baby dolls and wildlife-based toys. The demand for mythology-based toys of kings and gods and goddesses, the Channapatna and Kondapalli toys and the Natungram dolls have multiplied in the last few years in many countries, manufacturers said.

Uddhav faction MLAs get SC relief

Supreme Court asks Assembly Speaker to keep disqualification proceeding against Thackeray camp legislators in abeyance

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday directed the Maharashtra Legislative Assembly Speaker Rahul Narwekar to keep in abeyance the disqualification proceedings which was initiated against the members of Shivsena. The state is witnessing an ongoing political upheaval.

The direction of the Apex Court to the Speaker not to decide on the disqualification notices till the court rules on the pleas filed by both the rival groups of Shivsena.

Former Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray and current Chief Minister Eknath Shinde have initiated disqualification proceedings against the MLAs belonging to the rival camps. Shinde, with a group of MLAs, had rebelled against the government of Shiv Sena as they were opposed to the continuance of Maha Vikas Aghadi government led by Shiv Sena in alliance with NCP and Congress.

Senior Advocate Kapil Sibal appeared for the Uddhav camp and sought for urgent listing of the petitions filed in relation to Maharashtra political crisis. However, the bench comprising Chief Justice NV Ramana and Justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli took note of the submissions of Kapil Sibal that several pleas of the Uddhav faction, which were to be listed on Monday, have not been listed for hearing. The development came after the court had not listed the matter on Monday. The Chief Justice Ramana asked the Solicitor General Tushar Mehta to inform the Assembly Speaker Narwekar not to decide on the disqualification notices till the Apex Court's decision.

Our disqualification petition is listed tomorrow before the Speaker... Either way, there should not be any disqualification till the matter is decided

On July 3, Rahul Narvekar of the BJP was elected Speaker of the Maharashtra Assembly. He had polled 164 votes and defeated Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena candidate Rajan Salvi, who got 107 votes.

A day before the floor test, Maharashtra Assembly Speaker Narvekar had recognised Gogawale as the Shiv Sena's chief whip. The Shinde faction of the Shiv Sena had issued a notice to 14 legislators from the Uddhav Thackeray camp for violating a whip issued by the Sena whip and Shinde loyalist Bharat Gogawale.

Most Shiv Sena MPs tell Uddhav they back Murmu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

MOST Shiv Sena MPs have told party chief Uddhav Thackeray to extend support to Droupadi Murmu, the NDA candidate for the Presidential polls.

The MPs' views came at a meeting called by Uddhav on Monday. However, out of the 19 Lok Sabha MPs belonging to the party, only 15 turned up. Including the RS MPs, six of them skipped the meeting.

Those who were absent were Lok Sabha MPs Dr Shrikant Shinde, son of Maharashtra CM Eknath Shinde, Bhavana Gawali, Sanjay Jadhav, Sanjay Mandlik, Krupal Tumane and Kalabai Delkar. The party had earlier removed Bhavana Gawali as its chief whip, replacing her with Thane Lok Sabha MP Rajan Vichare. The meeting on the presidential candidate went on for more than three hours at Thackeray's Matoshree residence.

Sources said there were differences of opinion between the Lok Sabha MPs and their Rajya Sabha counterparts. "Sanjay Raut insisted Shiv Sena extend support to the united opposition candidate Yashwant Sinha. His argument was that the Sena had a good opportunity to hit back at the BJP for unseating the Sena-led MVA. However, most Sena MPs felt that the party should look for the future and announce its support to Murmu, said a source.

Party leader Sanjay Raut said Sena would go with Uddhav's decision. He said there was a discussion in the meeting about whether the party should support Murmu or Sinha, the joint opposition candidate to whom to support DNA candidate or united Opposition candidate.

TROUBLE IN GOA

Cong 'douses' mutiny, sacks rebel LoP Lobo

SUDHIR SURYAVANSHI @ Mumbai

THE Congress appears to have averted a possible split in its legislative wing in Goa for the time being as on Monday as it claimed the support of seven of the 11 party MLAs in the BJP-ruled state which saw Assembly polls just four months ago. The party removed Michael Lobo from the post of Leader of Opposition in the Assembly, which has 40 members.

Goa Congress president Amit Patankar wrote to Goa state assembly Speaker and informed that Leader of Opposition Michael Lobo has been removed by the party and new person will be appointed on his place. Besides, Congress also announced that action will be taken against Digambar Kamat and Michael Lobo for engineering split in Goa Congress lawmaker.

They planned to break away with eight a congress MLAs, but immediate firefighting by Congress leadership save the party for major embarrassment.

Meanwhile, Michael Lobo and his spouse who is also Congress MLA met Goa Chief Minister Dr Pramod Sawant. Sawant downplayed the Mr Lobo visit and said he is chief minister of Goa so people do meet him for some or other work.

Michael Lobo

Patkar said the Congress will announce a new Leader of Opposition (LoP) probably in the night on Monday.

He said Congress leaders met Assembly Speaker Ramesh Tawadkar to inform him about the removal of Michael Lobo as the LoP. Lobo claimed there was nothing wrong in the party.

Shankersinh in trouble over son's next move?

Mahendrasinh Vaghela, a two-time Congress MLA and son of former CM Shankersinh Vaghela was seen with Union Home Minister Amit Shah, who was on a visit to his home state Gujarat during the 'Rathyatra.' The meeting had ushered in rumours of desertion while, earlier, talks were rife that Vaghela senior would join the Congress and renominate son for the Bayad seat in Sabarkantha district. But political analysts believe that this has changed after the meeting with Amit Shah, who maintain that if junior Vaghela joins BJP, then senior will not get to re-enter Congress. The latter has been trying to re-join Congress since some time now.

Central Gujarat Cong loses more faces to BJP

Congress high-profile exits continued in the state with party district president and former MLA from Kheda, Rajesh Zala and Gautam Chauhan, respectively having quit the party to join the BJP. Moreover, district panchayat member Nagpalsinh Thakor, social worker Arvind Patel, city Congress chief Dilipsinh Chauhan and other central Gujarat senior leaders also made the exit. The leaders were inducted into the saffron party with their supporters swearing scarves and hats in presence of state BJP president C R Patil. Former MLA of Ahmedabad, Gautam Chauhan, who was present at the event, said, "The works which were not done in the whole country for many years are being done very well by Prime Minister Modi."

CBI books pvt firm for ₹710-crore bank fraud

Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) has named an Ahmedabad-based private company in a slew of cases relating to a `710.85-crore bank fraud on a complaint from a consortium of national banks. The claim is that the company had lent funds to related parties and others without the approval of consortium banks with an intention to siphon off the funds and deliberately entered into non-genuine transactions to better its credit facilities from the lender banks. The CBI has so far conducted searches at multiple locations related to the company in Ahmedabad and Pune. According a CBI release, the said company is a leader in the production of starch derivatives.

Zubair sent to 14-day custody in 2nd UP case

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

GETTING no respite, Alt News co-founder Mohammad Zubair was remanded to 14-day judicial custody by Lakhimpur Kheri local court on Monday in a case registered against him by the district police last year for allegedly promoting enmity through one of his tweets. The court posted the matter for hearing on his bail plea on July 13.

Bail plea in Delhi court
On Monday, Zubair moved Patiala House court. His bail plea will be heard before the the Additional Sessions Judge. He is chellnging the case filed by the Delhi Police Special Cell.

Zubair was arrested by the Delhi Police on June 27 for allegedly hurting religious sentiments through one of his tweets. He was then summoned by the Sitapur local court also in connection with his tweet against some seers with charge of hurting religious sentiment of a particular community.

However, the Supreme Court of India had granted him five-day interim bail in Sitapur case on July 8.

The Lakhimpur case was lodged at Mohammadi police station in September 2021 on the basis of a complaint filed by one Ashish Kumar Katiyar, a TV journalist under IPC Section 153 (A) (promoting enmity between different groups).

In the First Information Report (FIR), the complainant had claimed that Zubair was inciting Muslims against the news channel by posting the tweet. Twitter is also arraigned as an accused in the case for failing to take down the said tweet.

Meanwhile, sending Zubair into 14-day judicial remand, the Lakhimpur local court also added Sections 153(B) (Imputations, assertions prejudicial to national-integration), and others against him.

TMC fumes, Irani flags off Sealdah metro line

Union Minister Smriti Irani inaugurates Sealdah metro station | PTI

PRANAB MONDAL @ Bhopal

AMID the controversy over "invitation" to Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee, the Sealdah station of East-West Metro Corridor was inaugurated by Union Minister Smriti Irani on Wednesday. Sources at the Nabanna, the state secretariat, said the invitation to the CM was received but she was travelling to north Bengal on Monday. However, Trinamool Congress hit out at the BJP-led Centre, alleging that it was a last-minute invitation because of mounting public criticism.

"This is nothing but last-minute realisation by the Metro on its mistake in the face of mounting public criticism. They knew the CM's plan to visit north Bengal, but still they organised the event so that she is not available," alleged TMC MP Sukhendu Sekhar Roy. TMC MP Sudip Bandopadhyay and TMC MLA Paresh Pal were invited for the event.

With the inauguration of the new facility, Sealdah has been connected with the IT hub in Sector V, Salt Lake. The services will be available for common people from July 15. The BJP alleged that the TMC is unnecessarily raising hue and cry knowing well that the CM was invited .

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA & ANURAAG SINGH @ Ahmedabad/Bhopal

HEAVY rains have lashed several parts of Gujarat, leading to a flood-like situation in several districts in south and western parts of the state. The same was situation in Madhya pradesh and Maharashtra.

PM Modi called up Gujarat Chief Minister Bhupendra Patel and assured him of all possible help from the central government, the Chief Minister's Office (CMO) said in a statement.

The water level in some rivers has gone up, flooding the low-lying areas, including Ahmedabad, which received a heavy downpour in the last 24 hours.

In Ahmedabad, 6,000 people living in low-lying areas have been shifted. As many as 13 National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) teams along with personnel of the State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) have been deployed. More than 400 people have been evacuated in Chota Udaipur, 550 in Navsari, and more than 450 in Valsad in South Gujarat, official sources said on Monday.

Due to the incessant rains, 388 roads, including state highways and panchayat roads, were closed for vehicular traffic.

A portion of the famous Arjun Nath temple located in Chhota Udaipur district collapsed on Monday due to incessant rains. No one was reportedly injured in the incident.

At least 174 villages across Gujarat lost power supply in the heavy rain. Most of the villages lie in the tribal district of Chhota Udaipur. The authorities in the Navsari district were also on alert as the Kaveri and Ambika rivers flowed above the danger mark. Meanwhile, the India Meteorological Department (IMD) has predicted heavy to very heavy rain during the next five days in south Gujarat, and heavy downpours in central parts of the state and Saurashtra.

Bhopal: Heavy rains since Sunday have thrown normal life out of gear in large parts of Madhya Pradesh, particularly state capital Bhopal and Chhindwara district.

Sausar in Chhindwara reported a heavy rainfall, causing flash floods in low-lying areas, forcing closure of traffic on the main highway linking the town to Nagpur for around an hour.

Bhopal recorded 92 mm rain since Monday night, which was 133% more than the same period last year.

According to data released by the Met department on Monday, out of the 52 districts of MP, 27, including Bhopal had reported excess rain and seven districts reported normal rainfall.

Shivraj govt orders probe into denial of hearse van

ANURAAG SINGH @ Raipur

THE Madhya Pradesh government has ordered a probe into the alleged denial of a hearse van to daily wager at Morena district hospital that resulted in his minor son waiting on the roadside with a toddler brother's body in the lap. Disturbing visuals of the alleged incident, which happened on Saturday, went viral, drawing sharp reactions.

State Home Minister Narottam Mishra offered an official version. "When the man came from his village, his son's condition was critical. After doctors declared the toddler dead at Morena district hospital, he went to a relative's place to leave the child," he said in a statement. "The state government has taken the matter seriously and directed the CEO of Morena District Panchayat to investigate it. A show-cause notice has also been served on the Morena hospital's civil surgeon," said Mishra in state capital Bhopal on Monday.

He said the bereaved family has been given an immediate financial assistance of ₹10,000 from the Red Cross. Funds have also been released for the family under the state government's 'Sambal' scheme.

BJP may send Mithun, Dona Ganguly to RS

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is planning to nominate actor-turned-politician Mithun Chakraborty and well-known Odissi dancer Dona Ganguly to the Rajya Sabha, sources said. The party expects the move to boost its prospects in the state, they added. The duo will replace Rupa Ganguly and Swapan Dasgupta, whose terms came to an end recently.

Dona is the wife of former cricketer and current BCCI president Sourav Ganguly, who himself is said to be in the race. According to party insiders, the second seat would be given to either Dona or Sourav.

Mithun Chakraborty had campaigned for the BJP in the last Assembly elections as well as the Lok Sabha bypolls. "He still has enormous magnetic appeal and it was seen during his campaign in the Asansol LS bypoll recently. He will certainly be an added advantage for us," said a BJP leader with the caveat that only the top leadership can say anything on the record.

Popularly known as 'Disco Dancer', a moniker conferred on him by his fans for his outstanding performance in the movie with the same name, has also become active in politics after a short gap. According to sources, he recently went to the West Bengal BJP office and expressed his willingness to spend time on party affairs in the state.

"Chakraborty's nomination to the Rajya Sabha will not only give a strong message to the masses but it will also increase two votes for the upcoming vice-presidential elections," said political analyst P K D Nambiar.

At present, the saffron party has no representative from West Bengal in the Rajya Sabha ahead of upcoming vice-presidential elections after the terms of Ganguly and Dasgupta ended recently.

UP Muslim brothers serve Amarnath pilgrims

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN these tumultuous times, two Muslim brothers of Kanpur are sending out a message of communal harmony. They have transcended the boundaries of religion and faith by engaging in the service of Amarnath Yatris at Baltal base camp where they had reached much before the Yatra commenced.

Brothers, who had gone to deliver the goods, decided to stay back with other volunteers to serve the devotees
S. Verma, A volunteer group member

With the intent to serve the pilgrims going to the revered shrine of Amarnath, Irshad and Shamshad, who drive loader in Kanpur, approached the Shiv Sevak Samiti of Kanpur, headed by Raghunandan Bhadauria, the BJP MLA of Kanpur Cantt, and volunteered to go to Baltal for the service of devotees. In fact, the Shiv Sevak Samiti, is an organisation which takes goods for langar and other amenities for the Amarnath devotees every year. The Samiti puts up its camp in Baltal and serves the devotees at langar. "This time the samiti delegation has also taken five e-rickshaws to help the senior citizens in reaching closer to the cave shrine," says Sheelu Verma, Samiti's general secretary.

Even the BJP MLA also stays at the camp during the entire Yatra to oversee the operations of Samiti and he is at the camp currently. Verma said that this year when Samiti was sending goods to Baltal for the camp and langar, a loader driver Irshad approached them and expressed his wish to go to Baltal. Irshad along with his brother Shamshad took the goods on loader driving it from Kanpur to Baltal on minimum charges.

Irshad and Shamshad

On reaching Baltal, Irshad and Shamshad, who had gone to deliver the goods for the camp and the langar, decided to stay back with other members of Shiv Seva Samiti and serve the devotees. According to Verma, both of them first went to the shrine to have darshan of Lord Shiva and then started their service to the devotees at the base camp. With their loader parked at the camp, both the brothers are driving e-rickshaw to ferry the devotees till 2.5 km on Baradi road in a bid to minimise the hardships of the route to Shrine.

Macron in a spot over covert lobbying

Oppn MPs call for parlimentary probe into his links with taxi giant

PARIS

French President Emmanuel Macron was under pressure on Monday to explain his past support for taxi app Uber while he was economy minister, following media revelations that have been seized on by critics.

Investigations by media including France's Le Monde newspaper and Britain's The Guardian claimed Macron held several undeclared meetings with Uber executives while minister from 2014-2016.

Citing leaked internal documents and text messages, Le Monde also alleged that Uber struck a secret "deal" with Macron on regulation of the company's services at a time when it was upending the traditional taxi market.

Opposition MPs on the left and far-right slammed the president, a former investment banker who positioned himself as a pro-enterprise, pro-innovation politician when he emerged as a national figure in 2014.

Macron was "a lobbyist at the service of foreign private economic interests," senior far-right MP Sebastien Chenu told France Info radio on Monday morning.

The 44-year-old president was "an ideologue for deregulation, for globalisation," Chenu added. Hard-left MP Alexis Corbiere from the France Unbowed party suggested a parliamentary enquiry, which could prove embarrassing for the 44-year-old leader who lost his majority in the National Assembly last month. "It's very serious the idea that with this secret pact Mr Macron deregulated the regulation of the taxi industry," he told Public Senat television. "What lessons should be drawn? "Obviously we'll ask the questions to the government when we can, and a parliamentary enquiry as well," he added.

As announced last week, France Unbowed is set to table a no-confidence motion against the government later Monday which is not expected to pass.

According to the reports, the "secret deal" entailed Macron promising to help Uber work around legislation introduced in 2014, which sought to regulate the new app-based taxi hailing services.

Le Monde described Macron as "more than a supporter, almost a partner" for Uber over the course of 17 meetings held by him or his staff with company executives at a time when the firm faced multiple legal enquiries.

Macron rarely responds to public criticism and his agenda on Monday includes a meeting with the heads of multinational investors in France at the annual "Choose France" summit at the Versailles chateau outside Paris.

Lanka's main oppn party says it must lead new govt

Protesters relax at Sri Lankan prime minister's official residence in Colombo on Monday, the second day after it was stormed | AP

COLOMBO

SRI Lanka's main opposition party Samagi Jana Balavegaya (SJB) on Monday said it is ready to lead the next government to bring stability to the bankrupt island nation as it grapples with political and economic crises and any resistance to the move in Parliament will be seen as a "treacherous act".

The statement by SJB leader Sajith Premadasa came after the announcement made by Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe's office that the entire Sri Lankan Cabinet will resign and hand over their responsibilities to a new all-party interim government as soon as it is formed.

In a video statement released on SJB's social media channels, Premadasa said his party is ready to lead the country at the presidential and prime ministerial level and develop the economy, the Economy Next news portal reported.

"We will appoint a government headed by a president and a prime minister. There is no other alternative. If anyone opposes this or tries to sabotage it in Parliament we will see it as a treacherous act," he said.

"We're ready to protect the motherland, to give leadership to the motherland, to build the economy," he said.

In his statement, Premadasa also recognised the people's protests which led to the ouster of President Rajapaksa. "Victory to the motherland, victory to the people, victory to the aragalaya (struggle)," he said.

Meanwhile, the country's Parliament Speaker Mahinda Yapa Abeywardena's office said President Gotabaya Rajapaksa is still in the country, dismissing media reports that the embattled leader, whose whereabouts are unknown, may have fled the country.

He had not left the country as speculated in the media, Abeywardena's office said.

However, some officials contradicted him saying the president was flown to an airbase near the international airport, raising speculation he will flee abroad. PTI

Heathrow cancels more flights amid staff crunch

London: London's Heathrow Airport warned on Monday that it may ask airlines to cut more flights from their summer schedules to reduce the strain if the chaos persists. The airport cancelled 60 flights on Monday as its struggles to cope with a rebound in travel demand as the pandemic restrictions end. Heathrow said it started recruiting in November in anticipation of this summer's recovery in travel demand and expects security staffing will be back to pre-pandemic levels by the end of this months. The aiprort also has reopened Terminal 4 to give passengers more space.

RBI allows global trade settlement in rupee

RBI's move, analysts say, would make rupee more tradable globally and lessen dependence on US dollar

MONIKA YADAV @ NewDelhi

IN a very bold move to promote trade in Indian currency, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Monday unveiled a rupee settlement system for international trade.

The RBI's move, which analysts say would make the Indian currency more tradable globally and lessen dependence on US dollar, has been hailed as progressive. Under the new arrangement, authorised dealer (AD) banks in India may open special rupee accounts of correspondent banks of the partner trading country, in order to allow settlement of international trade transactions through this arrangement. However, AD banks will have to take prior permission from the foreign exchange department of RBI, before putting the mechanism to use.

The export/import undertaken and settled in this manner will be subject to usual documentation and reporting requirements. "…. the above instructions shall come into force with immediate effect. AD banks may bring the contents of this circular to the notice of their constituents and customers concern," an RBI notification said on Monday.

As per the notification, Indian exporters may receive advance payment against exports from overseas importers in rupee through the payment mechanism. Also, rupee surplus balance held may be used for permissible capital and current account transactions in accordance with mutual agreement, the notification stated. Abhishek Goenka, founder & CEO of IFA Global, said, "This would make rupee more tradable globally in offshore centers.. It's a step towards making the Rupee an international 24*7 traded currency. Acceptance of the Rupee will go up. It will also undermine the use of the dollar in the longer term."

Vijay Kalantri, Chairman, MVIRDC World Trade Center, Mumbai, said, "RBI's move to promote invoicing of our foreign trade in Indian rupee is a progressive step to internationalize our local currency. This will reduce India's demand for dollars and thereby reduce depreciation pressure on our currency.

UNACADEMY

Founders take pay cut, no free meals for staff

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

EDTECH unicorn Unacademy, which recently fired more than 10% of its employees, seems to have sharpened its focus on profitability, as the company's founders and management will take a pay cut. Also, it will stop offering complimentary snacks and meals across its offices.

In an email to employees, the edtech giant founder and CEO Gaurav Munjal said, "Even though we have more than ₹2,800 crore in the bank, we are not efficient at all. We spend crores on travel for employees and educators. Sometimes it's needed, sometimes it's not. There are a lot of unnecessary expenses that we do."

Even as we have over ₹2,800 cr in bank, we are not efficient at all. We must cut expenses. We have strong core business. We must turn profitable.
Unacademy CEO Gaurav Munjal

Munjal added, "We must cut all these expenses. We have a strong core business. We must turn profitable asap."

The SoftBank-backed startup is also eyeing an IPO in the next two years. "For that we must embrace frugality as a core value," he said.

It has also removed certain privileges such as dedicated drivers for CxOs, and has come up with strong guidelines for travel. No business class travel for anyone including CxOs and founders/ employees and educators can pay from their own pocket if they want an upgrade. Unacademy will also be shutting down its businesses that have failed to find PMF (product-market fit) like Global Test Prep. "We are well capitalised but still we want our businesses to be profitable," he added.

The Unacademy group employs close to 5,500 people, and it has started exploring the hybrid-retail model by opening offline centres. Earlier in May, Munjal in a note said the company must survive the winter and keep profitability and free cash flow as the goal.

Founded in 2015, the learning platform at present has over 91,000 educators and over 92 million learners. The Unacademy Group comprises Unacademy, Graphy, Relevel and CodeChef.

Adani may enter telecom space in future

RAKESH KUMAR @ NewDelhi

Gautam Adani-led Adani Group may foray into consumer mobility in future after acquiring private 5G spectrum, according to analysts.

A new entrant like Adani with strong financial backing will not only increase the competition but take away the market share of operators. "Although the group has expressed no plans to enter the consumer mobility space, one cannot deny that there will always be a possibility. At this point, we will be closely monitoring the developments and don't expect them to enter the consumer mobility space in near future," said Charu Paliwal, Research Analyst, Counterpoint Research.

She further added that there is a strong possibility of Adani group disrupting the consumer mobility services, if at all they enter this space. "When Jio entered, there was a large population base not using the mobile services and its entry helped in connecting them. Jio quickly gained these virgin subscribers as well as subscribers of its competitors. However, the market is more mature now and entry of Adani will directly erode market share of operators like Jio, Airtel and Vi," said Paliwal.

The conglomerate on Saturday said that it is taking part in the upcoming 5G spectrum auction. The company, however, categorically denied to be in a consumer mobility space and will participate in the 5G spectrum auction to have a private network. With its own 5G network, the company will provide network solutions along with enhanced cyber security in the airport, ports and logistics, power generation, transmission, distribution, and various manufacturing operations. However, many experts believe the conglomerate may test the taste of consumer retail space sometime in future.

MALLYA TRANSFERRED $40M TO CHILDREN

Mallya case
Allegations on Mallya were that he concealed facts and diverted the money to his son and daughters in violation of court order

A bench comprising justices UU Lalit, S Rabindra Bhat and PS Narsimha convicted Vijay Mallya of contempt of court in 2017 as he had transferred over $40 million to his children in violation of court orders. "To uphold the majesty of justice, we must impose adequate punishment," judges said.

The apex court ordered the recipients to return the amount with 8% interest to the recovery officer within four weeks. If the amount is not returned, Mallya's properties can be attached. "If this is not deposited, the recovery officer can take appropriate actions for recovery of the said amount and the Government of India and all agencies should assist in that process," said the court in its order.

Mallya was held guilty on two counts - of not disclosing assets and violating expressive orders of restraint passed by Karnataka high court.

CPSE capex up 14% in first 2 months of current financial year

DIPAK MONDAL @ NewDelhi

The Central Public Sector Enterprises (CPSEs) have so far spent ₹72,000 crore in Capex in the first two months of the current financial year, sources in the government told TNIE.

This is 14% higher than Rs 63,000 crore capex (capital expenditure) achieved in the same period previous year.

The government has given the CPSEs capital expenditure target of ₹6.6 lakh crore in 2022-23. So far in the first two months, they have been able to achieve 11% of the target.

The Central PSUs play a big role in pushing the government's infrastructure and capital spending push. In 2021-22, CPSEs spent ₹5 lakh crore in capex against the target of ₹5.95 lakh crore. The Centre has made an outlay of ₹7.5 lakh crore for capital expenditure in the Union Budget, a jump of 35.4% from last year's budget allocation of ₹5.54 lakh crore. The amount spent by CPSEs, however, is not part of the Centre's capex, and it is over and above the allocation made by the Central government. Meanwhile, Coal India ltd has in statement on Monday said that it has achived a 65% jump in capital expenditure in the April-June quarter of the current financial year. CIL's capex jumped to ₹3,034 Crores during April-June 2022 compared to ₹1,841 Crore of April-June 2021.

"The capex increase came on the back of a strong spending in acquiring land and strengthening transport infrastructure in our coalfields under first mile connectivity projects. These two vital areas help CIL in expanding its mining operations for accelerated production and pairing it with seamless transportation of coal", said a senior official of the company.

Paytm reports strong operational performance in Q1FY23

SABIKA ZEHRA ABIDI @ NewDelhi

PAYTM'S lending business witnessed a growth of 492% year-on-year (YoY) to 8.5 million loans in the quarter ending June 2022, while the value of loans disbursed grew 779% y-o-y to ₹5,554 Cr.

"Our lending business (in partnership with top lenders) continues to witness accelerated growth with disbursements through our platform now an annualised run rate of over ₹24,000 crore in June." Paytm said in a filing with the stock exchanges.

According to the company, the rapid expansion of its lending products has resulted in profits. The average ticket size also increased as a result of the expansion of the personal loans business in particular.

With a YoY growth of 101%, the total merchant gross merchant value (GMV) processed through Paytm for the quarter ending June 2022 aggregated to nearly ₹2.96 lakh crore. The company also announced a new record in monthly transacting users, with consumer engagement reaching a high of 76 million. The average monthly transacting users (MTU) for the quarter ending June 2022 was 74.8 million, representing a 49% increase YoY. The MTU stood at 75.9 million for the month of June alone. "The Paytm Super App continues to see heightened consumer engagement for the company's comprehensive payment offerings." said the company in its update.

Paytm stated that it is maintaining its leadership in offline payments, having deployed 3.8 million devices at merchant stores across the country. According to the company, the high adoption of devices correlates with an increase in merchants eligible for loans through its platform.

Stocks of Paytm (Listed as One 97 Communications) rose 2.84% on to ₹718.95, up from a previous close of ₹699.10.

TI Clean Mobility to roll out EV 3-wheelers by Sept

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

CHENNAI-BASED TI Clean Mobility, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Murugappa Group company Tube Investments India (TII), on Monday announced its plans to roll out premium electric three-wheelers under its brand Montra. The company plans to launch passenger and cargo three-wheelers by this August or September with a capital outlay of ₹200 crore.

In an online interaction with the press, Arun Murugappan, executive Chairman of Tube Investments, said the EVs have been under testing for the past three years and critical parts and batteries will be sourced locally. The company's existing plant at Ambattur in Chennai will be used for the production of the EVs with the capacity of 75,000 units in the initial stage and will be further scaled up based on the demand.

Retail inflation likely to be at 7.25% in June

DIPAK MONDAL @ NewDelhi

RETAIL inflation in June is likely to be nearly 7.25%, higher than 7.04% in May, largely due to higher vegetable prices, feel experts. They think that recent corrections in commodity prices would only be reflected in July inflation numbers.

"Higher vegetable prices are likely to have pushed up the consumer price inflation in June to 7.2%," says Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA.

Yuvika Singhal, economist at QuantEco Research, says that the June retail inflation is likely to see an uptick to 7.25% year-on-year despite a host of favourable factors like full impact of excise duty cut on petrol and diesel, moderating domestic wheat prices and a likely drop in housing prices.

She says these favourable factors have largely been offset by soaring vegetable prices, continued pass-through of global price pressures within fuel and light category, higher demand amidst complete opening up of the economy.

Retail inflation in May came down to 7.04% after touching a high of 7.8% in April. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has projected 7.5% inflation in the April-June quarter of the current financial year. Sunil Kumar Sinha, principal economist at India Ratings, says given the recent trends it is very likely that inflation in June would be at elevated levels. He blames the higher inflation partly higher raw material prices in the international market. "Manufacturers are fully passing on the impact of higher raw material cost to consumers. This is the reason the core inflation remain at elevated levels," he says.

MFine merges with LifeCell's diagnostics arm

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

DIGITAL health platform MFine, which has been facing financial constraints, has merged with LifeCell's diagnostics business. Together, the joint entity 'LifeWell' has raised an $80 million investment from OrbiMed, a healthcare investment firm.

Both have a combined user base of over 60 lakh, and the entity is growing over 100% Y-o-Y. With strategic investments and acquisitions lined up, LifeWell expects to serve more than 5 crore users over the next 4 years. Mayur Abhaya, MD & CEO, LifeCell International said, "Overall healthcare delivery is transforming worldwide with the rapid adoption of new technologies such as Genomics and Digital Health."

Founded in 2017, in May this year, MFine laid off over 400 employees citing financial constraints. India's healthcare delivery market, just Outpatient Care, is over $20 billion with 75% of the market still unorganised and largely not tech-enabled, the company said.

Post-pandemic, healthcare services have increasingly become accessible through digital platforms. MFine will continue to be the app platform. The capital raised will also be used for strategic investments in insurance-tech.

COMMODITY PRICES

Relief for consumers as companies pause price hikes

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ NewDelhi

IN a breather for consumers, most companies in the consumer durables and fast moving consumer goods (FMCG) space are unlikely to hike prices of their products for the time being on easing commodity prices.

Copper, steel and aluminium prices have corrected 21%, 19% and 36%, respectively, in the past three months.

ICICI Securities, in a note released last week, said, "We expect the decline in input prices to provide margin tailwinds in H2FY23." It added that with correction in input prices, the need to raise prices has declined. "We believe a breather was essential considering durable companies have raised prices incessantly in the past two years. The cumulative price hike was higher than 20% in the past two years."

Input cost
Copper, steel and aluminium prices have corrected 21%, 19% and 36%, respectively, in the past three months

The brokerage firm also expects the profitability margins of organised peers to be better than consensus estimates in H2FY23. However, it adds, "We do not expect the margins to improve in Q2FY23 due to inventory with durable companies." It further notes that consumer durables companies may invest the gains in raising advertisement spend after a gap of nearly three years, upping R&D spends, launching differentiated products, and increasing trade schemes and consumer offers to gain market shares from smaller/ unorganised players.

Mayank Shah, senior category head at Parle Products, says they have seen 15-20% decline from peak prices in most commodities. "This has brought some respite to FMCG companies, whose margins were affected by high inflation. Since most companies stagger price hikes and take them in a phased manner, we will not see any further price hike or package weight reduction, which was in the offing." "Price stability will help in the recovery of the market, both urban and rural, since inflation and price hikes were a major concern," Shah said. Kotak Institutional Equities suggested that demand is holding well for consumer companies and stage is set for 2H margin recovery. "Margins would bottom out and margin-recovery-led earnings upgrades could commence in event of further sustained fall in palm oil and crude," it said in a note. Avneet Singh Marwah, CEO of consumer durables company SPPL, however, said on the flip side the rate of the US dollar has increased by 5-6%. Hence, brands would not see much of a difference in their profit margins as the other variable has gone up.

After T20Is, Rohit & Co look to crack ODI code

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THE last time India fielded Shikhar Dhawan, Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli in the same ODI, the world was yet to be shaken up by Covid-19. There is a strong chance that the wait will continue especially given the injury scare to Kohli, but this just shows where India stand 15 months ahead of the next 50-over World Cup.

In many ways, India's ODI game has revolved around these three in the batting. Like it was the case in the T20Is, they have been heavily relied on their top three that they have even made KL Rahul – missing this series with an injury – bat in the middle-order. But all of it is in the past. They have pressed reboot in white-ball cricket and with the T20 side embracing an attacking approach, the series against England is an ideal opportunity to see how far they can adapt the same in ODIs.

Unlike in T20Is, where they brought in new personnel, the selectors haven't shown as much intent with their selection. At the top, at least for the time being, they continue to believe in the Dhawan-Rohit combination that has scored 5186 runs at a run-rate of 5.31 at an average of 45.49. They are easily one of the most efficient opening pairs in the last decade, but the question is does that run-rate belong to the current era. To put things in context,

India captain Rohit Sharma (L) and head coach Rahul Dravid would be keen to see how they could improve the approach in the ODI format in England | AFP

Virender Sehwag-Sachin Tendulkar combination that batted between 2002-2011 had a run-rate of 6.16 at an average of 42.13. Even the Gautam Gambhir-Sehwag pair scored at 6.42.

With the next World Cup to be played in home conditions, where flat decks will be the norm, the question is whether India have the right personnel to make optimum use of the conditions. It is not that India don't have other options. With Rohit's place all but locked and Prithvi Shaw and Ishan Kishan available as options, it would be interesting to see how far India persists with Dhawan. "For us, the aim is to understand white-ball cricket, how to play, new guys are playing. Fifty-overs is an extension of T20. Maybe you take less risk in ODIs as compared to T20 cricket but you have to take it. We can't play thinking ODIs are not a priority," skipper Rohit said.

As has been the case in T20Is, the middle-order has been a huge cause of concern for India in the ODIs with the team entering two successive World Cups in 2015 and 2019 without a designated No 4. While India have been looking at Shreyas Iyer as an option, in Suryakumar Yadav and Rishabh Pant, they also have the sort of enforcers they have been badly missing in the format off-late.

For a side that has largely preferred to prweserve wickets and go big in the last 10 overs, at some point they will be forced to change the strategy and as Rohit mentioned, it appears India will now treat ODIs as an extension of T20s. In terms of conditions, they may be get the ideal ones in UK to try the template.

Novak to Novaxx: No. 22 suspense to continue

AP @ Wimbledon

FRESH off a seventh Wimbledon championship, which gave him his 21st Grand Slam title — one ahead of Roger Federer, one behind Rafael Nadal — Novak Djokovic is headed off to vacation. What's unclear is exactly how long a break he will take.

And when he will be able to resume his pursuit of the major trophies he figures, correctly, that fans, and history, value the most. The next Slam tournament is the US Open, and as of now, Djokovic can't participate because he is not inoculated against Covid-19. "I would really," he said, "love to go there." As an unvaccinated foreigner, though, he can't enter the United States. He tried to get around coronavirus-related rules at the Australian Open in January via a tournament-backed exemption, ended up in court and in detention, and eventually had his visa revoked and was deported from that country — which all could hamper efforts to return there in 2023. So it's truly hard to know what's next for Djokovic. It is certainly an unusual sort of limbo. This is all up to him, of course, and he has steadfastly insisted — and insisted again Sunday after beating Nick Kyrgios 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-6 (3) on Sunday at the All England Club — "I'm not planning to get vaccinated." There is no doubt that he already has accomplished more than enough to burnish his resume, reputation and standing in the pantheon of tennis. That's why, for example, the 35-year-old Serb is not too fussed about no longer being No. 1 or about sliding to No. 7 in Monday's rankings despite a fourth triumph in a row at the All England Club.

These are unusual times, to say the least, and as of this week, Djokovic loses the 2,000 points he accrued for winning the 2021 title at Wimbledon, while simultaneously gaining zero points for winning the 2022 title, a result of the WTA and ATP tours withholding all ranking points in response to the ban on athletes from Russia and Belarus over the war in Ukraine. So No. 1-ranked Daniil Medvedev, the Russian who beat Djokovic in last year's U.S. Open final to end his bid for the first calendar-year Grand Slam by a man since 1969, was not allowed to be at the All England Club. And now it seems Djokovic will not be allowed to be at Flushing Meadows, where play begins on August 29.

Harman to lead India in CWG

GOMESH S @Chennai

AS India announced the 15-member squad for the Commonwealth Games late on Monday, there were no surprises with Harmanpreet Kaur is set to lead the team in the event, starting July 29 with the clash against Australia.

From the squad that toured Sri Lanka, the only notable change was the inclusion of all-rounder Sneh Rana, whom head coach Ramesh Powar said was "rested" for the series. Shikha Pandey, who was not selected for the Sri Lanka, seemed to be ignored once again. India are in Group A, along with Australia, Barbados and Pakistan. Top two teams from each group progressto the semifinals.

Squad: Harmanpreet (C), Smriti (VC), Shafali, Meghana, Taniyaa (Wk), Yastika (Wk), Deepti, Rajeshwari, Pooja, Meghna, Renuka, Jemimah, Radha, Harleen, Rana.

Standby: Simran Dil Bahadur, Richa Ghosh, Poonam Yadav.

END OF THE WORLD

The Indian women's team's World Cup hopes ended after a 1-0 defeat to Spain in the crossover stage on Sunday. A look at some talking points from their campaign so far...

WORLD-CLASS GOALKEEPER

For all their problems up-top, their skipper and custodian, Savita, emerged with enhanced reputation. She really is a commanding presence at the back and her reflexes are second to none. A couple of saves she made in the opening games against England and New Zealand will live long in the memory.

PENALTY CORNER CONVERSION A WORRY

The one reason why they failed to qualify directly to the quarterfinals. In all of their three group games (against England, China and New Zealand), they created a host of chances inside the 'D' to win penalty corners. However, their dragflick experts just couldn't find enough goals. Across four matches, they had 28 penalty corners. But converted only two.

RANI A BIG MISS

India have quite a few players capable of creating chaos in the opposition third of the pitch. The likes of Salima Tete, who is one for the future, and Lalremsiami but they lacked experience in the final third. With Rani Rampal, it could have been a different story.

Sindhu, Prannoy ready for Singapore

SINGAPORE: Indian shuttlers, led by two-time Olympic medallist PV Sindhu and in-form HS Prannoy, will look to hit top gear in the Singapore Super 500 Tournament beginning here on Tuesday. Being the last tournament before the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, starting later this month, the duo cannot afford to take it easy.

MAKING ROOM

Who says your work-from-home space is useless now that offices are back in full swing? Take inspiration from these B'lureans who have refurbished workstations into leisure corners and reading nooks

ISHRATH MUBEEN

JUST as Bengalureans get back to working from office after over two years of working from home due to the pandemic, they are finding innovative ways to make use of their home workstations. While some are turning it into a reading corner, others are reusing the furniture as study and dressing tables.

Khadija Aalam, who has been working from home since the first lockdown, bought a table in mid-2020 after struggling for the first couple of weeks without a designated work space. "I bought the table because working from my bed affected my productivity. But ever since we bought it, my little daughter has been waiting to take over the space. She now sits at it to draw, colour, and complete her homework," says the consultant.

The dining table, seating area, and even the side of the bed doubled as working stations for Ahmed Shariff, global lead with an MNC, in the first couple of weeks of 2020. He then got a desk custom-made after work from home was announced by his company. "The fear of aggravating my neck and back pain made me purchase an ergonomic chair to accompany the desk that I got custom-made by a carpenter. I suggested designs as per my convenience, which included an electric plug point built-in the table for my laptop charger," says Shariff, adding that returning to the office, even in a hybrid model, has made his office-in-home set-up obsolete.

"The work desk has turned into a leisure corner for my family and me, where we read books and relax with evening tea," says Shariff, adding reselling or disposing of the desk is not an option, as the design of the table matches his room's aesthetics. "Someday, it will go into our little home library," he says.

For Gautham Battineni, working from home necessitated that he get a dedicated workspace at home and to do that, he had to buy a new work desk and a swivel chair. "It was fun while it lasted, but work from home did end after close to two years of traffic-free work life. And the work office at home was neglected," he says.

During the long lockdowns, Battineni got into building Lego sets. "It always made me sad to break them up and pack them back into their boxes since I did not have any display shelves. Since I was no longer using the work table for work, I started using it as a workstation-cum-display space for my completed Lego sets. Thus, a place of work has now turned into a space for fun. And the swivel chair was apportioned by my sister for herself," says the working professional.

The list of ideas is long. Shajidha P A, who got back to work a month ago, turned her desk into a dressing table. "I had to accommodate the desk somewhere and I felt this was the perfect idea to reuse it by hanging a round mirror above it. I keep my makeup in a decorative way to give my room an aesthetic look," says the IT professional, adding, "I also use my ring light as the table had enough space to accommodate it."

Spaces once used as workstations are now being converted for other purposes.

TIPS & TRICKS

Interior designers Seethu Kurian and Rosa Augustine have been refurbishing workstations for a few months now. Here are some tips from the professionals

Turn your workstation into a console table for the foyer area. To give it a DIY makeover, colour it using chalk paint. To add to the aesthetics, you can also place a mirror on the wall behind, a flower vase and a table lamp on the table

It can also be converted into a shoe rack. With the help of your local carpenter, add planks and two shutters to give it the perfect look

The work desk has turned into a leisure corner for my family and me, where we read books and relax with evening tea

Grammy winner Ricky Kej, author Sudha Murty speak about their spiritual journeys at the launch of historian-journalist Hindol Sengupta's book Sing, Dance and Pray

Sudha Murty, Madhu Pandit, S Somanath, Ricky Kej and Hindol Sengupta | SHRIRAM BN

A MONK'S LIFE

MADHUMITA RAJGOPAL

WHERE science fails, faith begins.' These words by author and philanthropist Sudha Murty at the launch of historian-journalist Hindol Sengupta's book, Sing, Dance and Pray, capture the essence of this book, which is an account of founder of ISKCON Srila Prabhupada's life and teachings. Murty went on to say that after reading the book, she truly understood Prabhupada's vision, and 'who this person really was.'

To her, the writing, which was detached from its subject and did not contain an overpowering sense of awe and devotion, made it more successful because it brings in a 'logically convincing' point of view to prove why Prabhupada is so influential.

The author, being a historian and devotee, was able to not just state why Prabhupada said something but also bring in the socio-cultural conditions that prompted him to say what he did. While explaining what drew him to the Krishna Consciousness movement, Sengupta says, "My mother told me that you should make the purpose of your life to open cages and set people free."

According to the writer, the purpose of this book and his connection to Prabhupada began here. "The story has great relevance because his life was about setting people free from fear…when we open the cage and set people free, the real person we are setting free is only ourselves," he says.

Grammy award-winning composer and environmentalist Ricky Kej, who was also in attendance, says, "Music is my religion. To see singing, dancing, and prayer all together in this book is great, because I think that is a 360 degree approach to life."

Madhu Pandit, president of ISKCON, Bangalore says he was 'personally chasing the cause of all causes.' A chance encounter with a volume by Prabhupada in the IIT library changed his life. "I had tears in my eyes," he says. After reading the book, he realised that Prabhupada knew what the cause of all causes was.

With his core teachings, Prabhupada was able to connect the macrocosm with the microcosm because both of those have the same dynamics, says Somnath, chairman of ISRO. He believes that it is 'natural for human beings to explore the outer world and the inner world.' That is what Prabhupada does, by connecting science and belief.

I used to wonder who is this one person [Srila Prabhupada] who did this kind of work. I used to read Wikipedia about him but the book makes it clear

FIT BIT

MUSHTI MUDRA
(FIST GESTURE)

This mudra is designed to help release pent-up emotions. For the therapeutic benefits, it should be practised three times a day for 15 minutes. Practising this mudra after a meal is believed to activate energy in the stomach and liver, thereby aiding digestion. Fists are generally seen as a sign of aggression, but the mudra is believed to release such emotions because they are balanced in the palm.

STEPS

- Choose any comfortable sitting pose such as Padmasana, Siddhasana, Vajrasana and Sukhasana. If you can't sit in these poses then sit on a chair or your bed.
- Place the hands on the knees; your palms facing the sky. Close your eyes and focus your vision on the third eye or any particular point, so that your body maintains steadiness.
- Take some deep breaths and relax your mind, accompanied by the feeling of letting go.
- Clench the fingers of both the hands towards the palm and put the thumb over the first three fingers. Exert mild pressure over the fingers.
- Observe the physical sensation in the hands and emotional changes while inhaling and directing the prana towards the Manipura (Navel) Chakra. Hold for 5-15 minutes.
- After doing this mudra, practise mudras of Prana, Anjali and Merudanda as counter gestures.

BENEFITS

- Relieves negative emotions, viz. anger, fear, and frustration..
- Cures constipation and lack of appetite.
- Relaxes trapped tensions in the body.
- Helps in lowering blood pressure.
- Decreases the excess amount of Vayu, Akash, Prithvi and Jal. Thus, it prevents various health conditions.
- Soothes the mind by clearing worries and unwanted thoughts.
- Beneficial in curing depression, frustration.
- Generates heat in the body, and so it cures excessive shivering caused due to cold, and cough.

LIMITATIONS

You do not have to practise for the exact amount of time. You can do this mudra while walking, standing, or in other preferred posture.

Why crime is in love with itself

OPEN SPACE
Bala Chauhan
Senior Special Correspondent
bala.chauhan@newindianexpress.com

THE oeuvre of a crime reporter is not a dark diary of the gory stories, aka reports, that she writes. It is in fact, an extremely engaging journey into the mental make of humans, who at the drop of a cup of tea can knife their wives, rape as if it was a pleasure outlet of a sick mind, etc. Crime has no gender though very often it is the women, who are victims of a social order riding high on patriarchy. And patriarchy is above religion. It is the sanctum sanctorum of a skewed social order that spans across continents.

Crime has no single pathology. It can be spontaneous and organised. An organised crime can outweigh an on-the spur-of-the moment act of violence in bringing to justice the perpetrator in courts of law.

But to me, spontaneity behind a crime is equally mind boggling. That someone can behead or push in an iron rod inside a woman as an extreme act of vengeance is not ordinary. It is not animal-like. It is a human act, which only humans can achieve. The mystery that hides itself in the caverns of the human mind and expresses itself, like I mentioned, at the drop of a tea cup, is what drove me to crime reporting. The intrigue remains even after a career spanning close to three and a half decades.

What is clear today perhaps, is that criminals are not the 'other.' It is us. Those who populate the prisons are not people from outside the planet or the poor social penurious populace. They are us. Crime has nothing to do with one's socio-economic affluence or lack of it.

Crime is in love with itself and embraces all. The hate that is being spewed out there, openly in the gutters of social media is narcissistic. Hate loves being glorified. It brings in many more followers. It keeps our system busy and ensures daily feed of 'routine' stories to crime reporters like me.

Crime has changed from the time I started pursuing it as my core beat. It has come out of its isolation from behind Parapana Agrahara.

Made with Love

LOVEOLOGY
Mahesh Natarajan

AT one time or another, you may have tasted some awesome version of a very familiar dish at someone's home or at a restaurant, been so thrilled by it to remark how this one was so different from what you usually get, and ask what the secret ingredient was. Maybe you were actually told something like Marathi moggu if it was a plate of bisi bele baath, or maybe that it was a piece of stone flower if it was a plate of biriyani, but chances are that often you would have heard, "The secret ingredient is love!"

The mythology of love transforming the most basic of food into divine nectar is something that transcends all regional, racial or cultural barriers. Every culture celebrates love, especially parental love, as making even the most humble food taste divine. Advertisements around the world have exploited this idea to their commercial advantage.

Even a packet of instant ramen aimed at single people cooking it in a kettle in a youth hostel, claims that the minute the magic masalas from the little pouches are added to the boiling noodles, the aroma will envelop them with the love of a benevolent parent. Never mind that the young person might actually be trying to break away from the family!

All nourishment seems better when sold or consumed with love. Of course, not all food is the same kind of love, if you think about it. Have you ever seen strawberries advertised as anything other than between romantic partners? Ever seen carrots sold as the food of lovers?

Chocolate has hardly ever been shown as something parents give to their adored children, has it? When you think of chocolate and visualise an image, it is quite likely of people courting each other. A bar of chocolate coated nougat is the focus of attention as a lover breaks through barricades in a cricket stadium and dances around bemused police personnel and the abashed cricketer who hit a six.

Are foods really that specific in terms of their value to love and lovers? How come beer is a bunch of buddies, while wine is a prelude to love? Can curd rice, for example, be the focus of romantic attention? Can't a beautiful blushing beet foretell a hot encounter?

Certain alluded aphrodisiacal qualities aside, is it all just successful marketing? One way or another, certain foods, wines and all kinds of consumables, have been paired with romance successfully, to the exception of others, sadly. That said, free the love, if you wish to! Go ahead, woo your loved one with the food you know they love!

CE speaks to ace Bollywood film music composer and songwriter — Mithoon, who has a string of releases scheduled throughout this month — about his love for music and more

CROONING IN STYLE

RESHMI CHAKRAVORTY

POPULARLY known as the multifaceted music composer and songwriter, Mithoon Sharma – better known only by his first name – is behind some of the most eerie and haunting melodies in recent times. Born into a family of musicians, Mithoon has always showcased his family lineage in his award-winning work, through experimentation and authenticity. He began his career as a composer in 2006, at the age of 19, with the movie Bas Ek Pal. This year, we see him basking in the spotlight again, with films like Khuda Hafiz 2, HIT: The First Case, Shamshera, Ek Villain Returns, and Gadar 2: The Katha Continues, in his kitty. Mithoon tells CE where his passion for music comes from, and a lot more.

2022 is a busy year for you with back-to-back releases. How does it feel after the pandemic brought things to a standstill?
Yes, I do have a lot of releases coming up, and it is more than usual, but my excitement is never the number of releases. It is in creating music that my audience connects with and that works well for the movies I am working on. The movies lined up are very different from each other.

How was the experience of creating music for different genres of movies?
The experience has been exhilarating and satisfying. Each project is different from the other and required me to sometimes take the not-so-conventional path, but the end result has been satisfying.

'Shamshera' marks your first association with YRF. Tell us a bit about that...
I have been living with Shamshera for a few years now, because the project got delayed on account of the pandemic. Karan Malhotra is a high-energy and vivacious director and he opened me up like never before. The music that has been created is soaked in the characters and the era of Shamshera.

Tell us about your two new tracks that were released the same day.
Ji Huzoor, sung by Aditya Narayan, from Shamshera was released in Hindi, Tamil and Telugu and has been getting great reviews. I am glad the listeners have connected with it. It is the introductory song for the character of Ranbir, and the way Karan has picturised the song is also noteworthy. The other track Kitni Haseen Hogi, from Hit, is a melancholic love song by Arijit Singh and again is based on the characters in the movie. I have been getting a lot of love for that one too.

Q&A

Did technology help when working on a variety of projects like these?
Technology is an enabler and will continue to be so, but the composer/songwriter has to create something for technology to enable the process. But yes, these days one can be in any corner of the world and still get work done as we discovered in the pandemic, and this is all thanks to technology.

You have completed decades in the industry. What have you gained? Are there any challenges that you faced?
My dream of becoming a film-music composer/songwriter is what I have gained, along with the love and support of well-wishers, music lovers, and others in the industry. The challenge has always been to outdo what I have put out or created before and evolve.

You are a composer and singer. Which is closer to your heart and why?
I'm a composer and songwriter. Though I do sing and have done so in projects, my core essence is still composing and there are so many talented singers out there who may suit a particular character/situation of a movie better than I could.

What's your take on remakes of old hits?
It started out as a fad, but I am not sure that's the case anymore. I had re-created Ae Mere Humsafar, but then I decided not to do it anymore.

What was that song in your career which made you feel like you had finally achieved what you wanted?
I guess my first ever original song Tere Bin, sung by Atif Aslam. I was all of 19 and travelling in an autorickshaw to college, when I heard my own song play. It was certainly a high!

What's next for you?
More music for sure...this year will also see my project with Revathi releasing...and Gadar 2 with director Anil Sharma.

MUSIC AND SECULARISM

WITH a trend towards holistic education in India, I am seeing more importance being given to subjects like music, dance, theatre, and art as part of school curriculum. Artistic expression is slowly being recognised as a critical part of developing a child's identity.

When we teach music in schools, our focus has always been on Indian and global music – many languages, many cultures, and representation of as many styles as possible. I sometimes get asked if our programme is secular, and my response is that we are what we define as representatively secular. (Side note: I'm not here to argue the issue of secularism, I think that's best left to people more erudite than I)

Representative secularism means that our curriculum does contain spiritual or religious music, but it doesn't preach any religion. We respect and acknowledge that many artists from Bach to Thyagaraja have offered their art in the service of the divine, and church and temple have traditionally been places that have offered patronage to the arts and artists themselves. The bottom line is, when you take religion away from traditional art, there is sometimes very little left. I maintain that religious art can be appreciated without having to share the same religious beliefs as the creator. Just as people from all faiths line up to see Michelangelo's masterful fresco in the Sistine Chapel, we should be able to appreciate music without being tied to the beliefs of its creator.

TUNING IN
Bindu & Ambi Subramaniam

(The authors run SaPa - the Subramaniam Academy of Performing Arts)

Pre-primary children sing Parvati Nandana, and He's Got the Whole World in His Hands without having to worry about Judaism, Hinduism or Christianity. It's just beautiful music. I know of instances where well-intentioned adults have changed the lyrics of a song – from one God to another or removed the word God and inserted something less offensive. Making Pie Jesu into Pie <<something else>> might make things easier for some, but it also becomes a derivative work, and something from the original is lost.

To take it a step further than religion, music shouldn't shy away from reality, and is a powerful way to introduce children to difficult scenarios and conversations. Bella Ciao has a catchy beat but was also a song of political protest. We Shall Overcome is an example of how music was used for social change.

I think the point I'm trying to make here is this - when our children understand each other's perspectives, they don't lose their identities. Being more open minded, tolerant, and understanding just makes them better people, and who doesn't want that?

GHOST

RELEASES A STYLISH POSTER FOR SHIVANNA'S BIRTHDAY

A SHARADHAA

WE had earlier reported that director Srini was collaborating with Shivarajkumarfor a heist action thriller titled Ghost. The team has now come up with a poster to mark the 60th birthday of the Century Star, and will be officially released by Kichcha Sudeep today. 'King of Masses', as the theme, the poster features a revolver, a prison, a few bike chases, and high rises. We see Shivanna sporting a 'Danger' tattoo on his forehead.

The shooting of this multilingual film, bankrolled by Sandesh Productions, will begin in August. Ghost will have music by Arjun Janya, artwork by Shivakumar, and cinematography by Mahendra Simha, who is collaborating with Shivanna for the second time after Tagaru. Ghost will have Maasti and Prasanna VM penning the dialogues. Srini, busy with the preparations for Ghost, had recently announced his other project Birbal 2. "I will take up Birbal2 after I'm done with my current project," Apart from Ghost, Shivanna is presently committed to directors A Harsha, Yogaraj Bhat, Arjun Janya, and Sachin Ravi among others for films in various stages of production.

SALUTE PAYS TRIBUTE TO POLICE DEPARTMENT

CE FEATURES

DEEPAK Gowda, following his brother Umapathy Gowda's footsteps, marks his first productional venture with a short film, titled Salute. The 27-minute-long film, directed by Tyagaraj, is a tribute to the police department and the producer's father Govindaraju, a retired police officer.

Tyagaraj, who is a specially challenged person and wheelchair-bound, is an aspiring feature film director, and he feels short films will be the first step towards his goal. "I quit my corporate job to follow my passion. My first short film, Shrestaru, about farmers, fetched a good response, and also got me connected to producer Deepak," says director Tyagaraj. "Salute highlights three issues -- the challenges faced by the police, the struggles during Covid time, and sexual abuse."

Ashwin Hassan plays the lead role in Salute and his role is said to be inspired by the real life of a retired senior cop, Umesh KA, who has served in the police department for 31 years. Salute's music is composed by Pradyothan, and the film will be released on D Beats Youtube channel soon.

SHREYAS CHINGA WEARS MULTIPLE HATS FOR DAVID

CE FEATURES

DAVID, which marks the directorial debut of choreographer Bargav Yogambar, has lead actor Shreyas Chinga doubling up as a co-director and the line producer for the film.

The makers, who are planning to release the film in August, unveiled the track, Eno Helabekeniside, at a recent event. The song has music composed by popular Rapper All OK, who has also rendered his voice along with singer Sanchith Shetty.

At the event, the trailer was launched by Dhanraj Babu. Produced by Prasad Rudramuni and five of his friends, David is billed as a murder mystery. "The film travels with four stories running parallel that are all connected. There is more than one David in the film, and that's the mystery of this film," says Shreyas.

Interestingly, David garnered attention even before its release when it was viewed by a few international distributors at the 2019 Cannes Films Festival who reached an agreement with the team to release David in multiple languages across the world.

David stars Sarah Harish as the female lead and consists of actors Avinash, Rakesh Adiga, Pratap Narayan, and others as part of the cast.

Shreyas Chinga began as a theatre artist with Prakash Belawadi. Having been part of 250 commercials, Shreyas Chinga has also worked as an associate for Indrajit Lankesh's films – Luv you Alia and Shakeela.

Ahead of her upcoming release, Gargi, Sai Pallavi talks about her script choices, balancing films across multiple languages, and why she won't back down from sharing her opinions

BEING SAI PALLAVI

Sai Pallavi

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

AS I wait in the swanky banquet hall of a five-star hotel for this conversation with Sai Pallavi, the actor is just getting done with a previous video interaction. Sporting a simple white shirt-blue jeans look, Sai Pallavi finishes exchanging pleasantries and steps away from the bright studio lights. Taking the chair in front of me, she plonks her foot on the chair and gets comfortable. "Are you aware of your stardom, Sai Pallavi?" I begin. She responds with an effervescent smile. "I am surrounded by people who don't think I am fancy. I am the same Pallavi in their eyes. I am always treated as the person I was before my film career took off. So, it never gets to my head. Of course, I am overwhelmed by the audience's love, but I can never allow it to make me feel extra special about myself," says the actor, who is on a whirlwind promotional tour for her upcoming film, Gargi, which will be released in Tamil, Telugu, and Kannada.

The actor clearly revels in balancing films across languages, considering how her career kickstarted in Malayalam cinema, and how she has now made Tamil and Telugu her home as well. Not calling it a strategic move, Sai Pallavi assures that her priority has always been picking the right script irrespective of the language the film belongs to. "My journey into movies has been magical, and I believe that I am here for a reason. There are some stories that have to be told through me, and those movies will happen. I believe I need a movie as much as it needs me. Also, if I start strategising every move, it will take away the joy of acting. In my head, I really haven't segregated my audience. It is the scripts that take me to places," shares the Virata Parvam actor, who feels that Gautham Ramachandran's Gargi is bringing her back to Tamil cinema in particular. "The concept of this film is something everyone can relate to. It is a film that traces the struggles of a woman who isn't certain where her life is taking her."

Complex roles are a bit of a forte for Sai Pallavi. Just like in Gargi, her recent releases Virata Parvam and Shyam Singha Roy, or her roles in Love Story and Or Iravu (Paava Kathaigal) show a certain preference for intense characters—an intensity that impacts her real persona apparently. "I feel that heaviness after completing the shooting. Of course, over time, it goes away, but I don't consciously push that character out. I give space for the character to exit at her own pace. If getting into the character takes time, so does getting out," says the actor with her trademark smile. It reminds me of all the times when her initial happiness in a film is a precursor for impending doom. Sai Pallavi laughs and responds, "I do have a thing for such intense roles, and since I choose films I like to watch, I seem to have picked up on a lot of such films. But now, I have a craving for happy films, considering that my type of cinema makes me feel heavy and depressed even when I am not shooting. I want to feel happy for a while, when I'm acting."

These are instincts that govern Sai Pallavi's choices. This is why she prefers reading scripts over listening to long narrations. "It's better when I read because I can take time to build that world in my head. Narrations sometimes end up being too fast for me, and I fear that I might miss out on some points. When I was first envisioning Gargi, I only saw names for the other roles. Now, with the cast in place, Gargi has got better," says Sai Pallavi, who shares that her process includes conversations with the filmmakers about her role, especially if the character she plays does not align with her personality. "Who am I to judge somebody else? My upbringing shaped the person that I am. Similarly, the character that is offered to me would have gone through many struggles. I like to know how that person was shaped. When a character is unique and is put forth in an organic way, it becomes convincing. That credit goes to the filmmaker and writer. I am lucky to play such unique heroine roles."

Being Sai Pallavi is a responsibility too, considering that the success of her films paves the way for similar attempts by other filmmakers and actors. Despite being the face of most of her films, Sai Pallavi is clear that she won't let this 'responsibility' affect her choice of films. "I pick films that connect to me on some level. I read a script and react to it like an average viewer will. Just like how filmmakers can't sit down with the audience to convince them of their ideologies, I don't accept a film that doesn't immediately connect with me," reaffirms Sai Pallavi.

Her seven-year-old career has shown us a Sai Pallavi who doesn't back down from making strong choices and expressing strong opinions. Despite facing some stiff criticism for some recent opinions, she isn't fazed. "I only spoke what I believed in. If my opinions hurt anyone, I'm always happy to apologise. All of us are works in progress. But, when I share my opinion, it is a personal expression. It is not to side with somebody or divide people..." she clarifies and signs off with another characteristically strong opinion. "You see, I don't ever want to hold back from saying anything. If the topic is something I am unaware of, I prefer to remain silent. However, when I put forth an opinion, I can assure you that I have given it enough thought."
